

CUPID TO LEAD PRESIDENT AND BRIDE TO ALTAR DEC. 18

AS EUROPEAN COUNTRIES BATTLE TO DEATH, AN AMERICAN PEACE TRIUMPH, THE PANAMA EXPOSITION, COMES TO CLOSE

San Francisco, Dec. 4.—To-day was closing day at the Panama Pacific International Exposition. A salute of twenty-one guns at sunrise opened a carnival of music and dancing which will last until midnight in celebration of the success of the fair. The sounding of "taps" from the lofty tower of Jewels, the pressing of a button by President C. C. Moore, that will extinguish the myriad lights of the "Jewel City" the hauling down of the flags and the furling of banners and the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" are to be the final and concluding acts of the exposition which opened Feb. 20. A record breaking crowd is expected to witness the ceremony. Business in the city was suspended for the day. The exposition officials expressed the belief that the day's attendance would reach the 400,000 mark, which would make the total attendance (Continued On Page Six)

OHIO TAX DUPLICATE SHOWS A SPLENDID GAIN

INCREASE OVER 1914 EXCEEDS HUNDRED MILLION

Columbus, O., Dec. 4.—The 1915 grand tax duplicate for the entire state, announced today by the tax commission, is $2,270,313,505, as compared with $6,180,772,679 in 1914, a net gain of $109,540,826.

These figures were based on returns of district assessors, and do not include public utilities.

The net totals for the duplicate on public utilities are as follows: 1915, $1,122,246,620; 1914, $1,084,915,330; a net increase of $37,331,290.

Personal property this year shows a loss from that of last year of $26,443,221. The real estate gain this year is $136,084,047. Comparative figures are as follows:

1915—Personal property valuations, $1,541,392,030; 1914—Personal property valuations, $1,567,835,251.

1915—Real property valuations, $4,728,921,475; 1914—Real property valuations, $4,592,837,438.

The state tax commission issued this explanatory statement: "The figures given for 1914 in personal property, do not include the $311,040,000 reduction made by the courts in the so-called Rockefeller assessment, nor

4 Conspirators Sentenced to Pen; All Are Out On Bail

New York, Dec. 4.—Dr. Karl Bueh, George Kotter and Adolph Hachmeister of the Hamburg-American Line, recently convicted of conspiracy to defraud the United States government, were sentenced today to serve one and a half years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

Joseph Poppinghaus was sentenced to one year. The Hamburg-American Line was fined one dollar. All the defendants were admitted to bail pending the suing out of a writ of error in their behalf.

Bail was fixed at $10,000 in each case and was accepted from a surety company. Sentence was pronounced after Judge Howe had overruled motions by Wm. Rand, Jr., chief counsel for the defense for dismissal of the verdict on the ground that it was contrary to the evidence and law in the case. In making his motion Mr. Rand said he had little hope that it would be entertained by the court.

BRITISH RETREAT

London, Dec. 4.—The British army in Mesopotamia is in retreat. Official announcement was made today that the forces of General Townshend were retreating to Kut-el-Amara.

The defeat of the British puts an end for the time being to their hope of capturing Bagdad, the objective of their campaign.

CANDIDATES TO BE PROSECUTED

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 4.—County Prosecutor Campbell received a letter today from Attorney General Turner requesting him to "Proceed Against" 234 persons who were candidates for office at the last election in Hamilton county outside Cincinnati, who according to Mr. Turner have failed to file their election expenses as required by law. Of the number, sixty-six were candidates for various boards of education in the villages.

BONDS REDUCED

Chicago, Ill., December 4.—Wheat prices made an extraordinary upward jump today just before the close. Under the impetus of immense buying on the part of the big houses the market gained more than six cents a bushel in some cases as compared with prices earlier in the day. Rumors of a foreign government order for wheat accompanied the advance. The close was excited at virtually the topmost level of the session, 2½¢ to 3¢ to 5½¢ cents above yesterday's finish, and with December at 116½¢ and May at 116½¢.

Reports that Canadian wheat could only be sold to Great Britain or her allies were circulated, and the market was also bullishly affected by Philadelphia reports of an immense foreign business in flour and wheat. Prices reached here previous to the windup for the day were the highest attained so far in this season's crop.

Berlin, Dec. 4.—(Wireless to Sayville)—The Overseas News Agency asserts that it has received private advices that the Russian war loan has proved a total failure.

WHITLOCK WILL RETURN TO BELGIUM

Washington, D.C., Dec. 4.—American Minister Whitlock is to return to Brussels, Belgium, when he sails from the United States December 5th on the Steamer Rotterdam, it was stated officially at the state department today.

BRITISH LASS FOILS JOHN BULL; WEDS AMERICAN, THUS CHANGES NATIONALITY

Dr. and Mrs. Byron Moore.

Miss Dorothy Winifred Barfield, a native of British South Africa, was engaged to Dr. Byron Moore, an American. They had planned to be married at Savannah, Ga., Dr. Moore's home. But the British government in these war times makes it hard for its subjects to get out of the country. So it was decided that the couple should be married in South Africa. The wedding ceremony made the British girl an American. So she got away without trouble, and is now in Savannah with her husband.

WILL NOT PRESS CLOTURE FIGHT ON FIRST DAY

Washington, D.C., Dec. 4.—The fight to restrict debate in the senate, Democrats agreed today urged on the opening day of congress and will be postponed until later in the week.

In view of this decision Majority Leader Kern telegraphed today to Vice President Marshall at Indianapolis that it will not be necessary for him to be present on the opening day. The vice president wished to delay coming to Washington on account of the illness of Mrs. Marshall. The senate will be called to order by the secretary and the first business will be the election of Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, as president pro tempore.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Democratic nominations for house committees announced today and which will be laid before the house Monday assure support for President Wilson national defense program. Republicans on committees will be announced later. Five of six new members of the naval committees are "Big navy men." Oscar Callaway, of Texas, named to succeed the late representative Witherspoon, of Mississippi, is opposed to any material increase in the navy. Witherspoon was of the same conviction and the naming of Callaway was in recognition of how Witherspoon would have voted if he had returned to congress. The new members of the military affairs committee are said to be unanimously in favor of a larger army. Claude Kitchen, chairman of the ways and means committee, is opposed to the program of preparedness, but he said today that he was satisfied with the personnel of the committee. No opposition developed to Kitchen continuing to head the ways and means committee.

MORE THAN EIGHTY START FOR EUROPE

New York, Dec. 4.—Henry Ford and more than eighty peace advocates sailed from here today on the steamer Oscar II. for Christiania, Norway. The party was accompanied by fifty-seven newspaper correspondents and photographers and more than twenty general assistants, secretaries and stenographers.

New York, Dec. 4.—Members of the peace expedition organized and financed by Henry Ford for the purpose of creating a conference of representatives of neutral nations in the hope of ending the war, began to assemble today at Hohenoken on board the Scandinavian-American line steamer Oscar II. One hundred and forty names are on the list of Ford's guests. Of these 83 are peace envoys, 54 newspaper and magazine correspondents and three moving picture men. For their use Mr. Ford chartered the entire first and second cabins of the steamer.

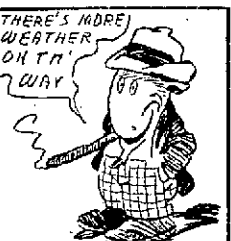

The Oscar II. is due to sail at 2 p. m. She should arrive at Christiania, Norway, her first stop, about December 14. Thence the party is to proceed to Stockholm, Copenhagen and The Hague. It is proposed to hold the peace conference at The Hague.

W. J. Bryan declined to accompany the party but said he hoped to join them at The Hague a few weeks later.

In the list of envoys given out by Mr. Ford's assistants are, among others, the Rev. Charles

PRESIDENT AND MRS. GALT WILL BE MARRIED A WEEK BEFORE XMAS; ONLY RELATIVES WILL ATTEND

Washington, D.C., Dec. 4.—President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt will be married on Saturday, December 18, at Mrs. Galt's home here, according to formal announcement made today at the White House.

It was also announced that the only guests will be Mrs. Galt's mother, her brothers and sisters, the president's brother and sister, his daughters and the members of his immediate household. No invitations will be issued.

No announcement was made regarding plans for a honeymoon, but it was expected that the president and his bride will leave Washington soon after the ceremony for somewhere in the south.

While no announcement was made of the hour of the ceremony it was understood it will be late in the afternoon. The Rev. Syllabus Beach, the president's pastor in Princeton, and the Rev. Herbert Scott Smith, rector of Mrs. Galt's church here, are expected to officiate.

The formal announcement of the wedding plans was written out by the president himself this morning. Immediately afterwards he left the White House to Mrs. Galt. Both have agreed that all the details shall be as simple as possible.

It has been intimated to the diplomats who have made inquiries of the state department that no display in connection with the wedding is desired. Despite that it is expected that army officials and admirers of the president will send gifts.

Joseph R. Wilson, of Baltimore, the president's brother, Mrs. Anna Howe, his sister, and Mrs. Francis R. Sayre, the president's daughter, will be guests at the White House when they come to attend the wedding.

DANCE HALLS TO BE REGULATED SAYS MAYOR

Order Goes Out As Result Of Cutting Affray On Thursday

As a sequel to Thursday night's cutting affray at the Distel hall on upper Gallia street Mayor Adam Frick has directed Police Chief B. F. Allen to order the place temporarily closed to dances.

The hall will not be permitted to be used for dances until arrangements are made by the proprietors to maintain better order or until they may submit for approval a proper person to act in the capacity of special officer.

Capt. Grant Cooper, who refused to permit further dancing and ordered the hall cleared immediately after the cutting took place, will also be directed to make a close personal inspection of all such places and order closed any that may not be up to reasonable social standards. The officials take the stand that it is in such places that persons having grudges and grievances give vent to their feelings and precipitate arguments in the desire to seek revenge.

Holbrook continues doing nicely since his removal to Hempstead hospital, but will be bedfast for several more days. Holbrook's young wife, whom police vainly sought after the cutting all day Friday was a caller at police headquarters Friday night. She was accompanied by a sister. She admitted having eluded the officers Thursday night. She said she had retired for the night when the officers came. She lived in the basement of the building and hearing the officers above inquiring for her she bolted from the place, uttered though she was in her night clothes, going to the home of a relative nearby simply because she felt frightened. She denied that she had been dancing with Charles Lowe, the young man whom Holbrook names as his assailant, or that she was in the dance hall at the time the cutting occurred. She said she had been there before the cutting and that Holbrook, from whom she has been separated, called her to one side and after they had taken seats together began complaining he had been hearing tales about her. She said she soon after left the hall.

The police claim to have sufficient evidence, however, to prove that Mrs. Holbrook was in the hall at the time the cutting took place and that she even returned to the hall later. One young man named Sparks, according to Captain Cooper, will testify that he saw Lowe in the act of using a knife.

Efforts to locate the knife user thus far have been futile and the officers after careful investigation, have concluded that reports that Mrs. Holbrook had it in her possession, are unfounded. From what they can learn Lowe slipped the knife to a friend and he in turn handed it to another, and although a careful search was made of Lowe's companions before they were permitted to leave the dance hall, the knife could not be found.

Holbrook himself told Captain Cooper that it was Lowe who had cut him. He said he had seen him dancing with his wife and as he held him responsible for separating him and his wife he called him aside to ask him to cease his attentions to her. Lowe without further ado, whipped out a knife and began slashing him.

Preliminary Hearing In Stabbing Incident

The hearing of Charles Lowe, who is charged with cutting with intent to kill, Dan Holbrook, was begun in the mayor's court, Saturday and will be concluded Monday.

Lowe, who pleaded not guilty and denied point blank that he did the cutting, was ordered held in custody along with Walker Isom and O. E. Taylor, who the court said would probably be charged with being accessories. The testimony of Officer Burns will be taken Monday.

Damaging testimony against Lowe was given by Taylor Sparks, who said he saw Isom trying to get between the two men as they made for each other in the Distel dance hall and then saw Lowe swing at Holbrook with a knife. A brother of Sparks also related seeing the struggle and Robert Jamison testified to seeing Lowe lower his knife to about his knee and close it. The court said he believed Isom took charge of the knife, the knife user passing the instrument to him after the cutting.

Holbrook's wife was the first witness examined. She said she and Dan had been living apart for the past year. They were married five years ago and have no children. She said that she had known Lowe for over a year, having once lived near where he boarded and admitted occasionally meeting him on the streets and talking to him but denied ever walking on the street with him. She said she went to the dance about 7 o'clock and left about 9 o'clock or before the cutting took place because her husband had raised a fuss with her. He had called her aside and began acquainting her with some things he said Asa Holton had told him about her. One of these she said was that a woman had told Holton of Mrs. Holbrook and Lowe walking home with her from Chillicothe street one night last winter. She said rather than have any trouble or scene she quit the ball room and went home. She said the last time she saw Lowe was at the Pentecostal church last Sunday afternoon but denied that he walked home with her. She said she was accompanied by her sister's child. She said she did not dance with Lowe but mentioned the name of another young man with whom she had danced.

Holbrook is doing nicely at Hempstead hospital, according to the attending physician, Dr. W. W. Smith, who expressed the belief

America's First Lighthouse.

The first lighthouse built on this continent was at St. Augustine, Fla. Its chief use was as a lookout, whence the Spanish people of the town could see vessels approaching from Spain or get notice of the coming of new time to run away. The tower attracted the attention of Francis Drake as he was sailing along the coast with his fleet of ships, peering ships on his way home from pillaging the cities of the Spanish main, so he stopped long enough to loot the town and destroy what he could not take away.

WORK PROGRESSING RAPIDLY ON INTERURBAN

Eight Miles Of Trackage Ready

So rapidly is work progressing on the extension of the Ohio Valley Traction company from Sciotoville to Trenton, it was announced by officials of the company Saturday, that the work of putting down 70 pound rails between Sciotoville and Franklin Furnace will be completed next week.

Eight miles of trackage have already been completed and all grading work between Sciotoville and Hanging Rock has been finished.

The sub-station at Frank Furnace is in fine working order. The station at Hanging Rock will not be needed until 60 days. Trolley wire has been put up as far east as Franklin Furnace and poles are up as far as Hanging Rock.

"We are making splendid headway, but the extension will hardly be ready for service before spring," Raymond York said Saturday.

"The new cars we ordered for the traction line will probably reach the city March 1. The work is moving along so satisfactorily that the extension should actually be in smooth running order by April 1," Mr. York declared today.

Big Commotion Cause In Milk Case Hearing.

INDIGNANT MOTHER GOES TO DEFENSE OF DAUGHTER; THEN JAILED, CONTEMPT

Mayor Adam Friel's probe of Grover Jas. Goodpaster's method of handling milk bottles was rudely interrupted by Mrs. Anna Larkins Saturday, the woman causing such a big commotion that she was held in contempt and locked up in prison until after the conclusion of court.

Mrs. Larkins' name had been quite frequently connected with Goodpaster's during the investigation but what particularly riled her was testimony the prosecuting witness, Byron Webb, had given against her 16-year old daughter, Charlotte. Fanning and her eyes fairly flashing fire Mrs. Larkins came charging into the crowded court room, the daughter close at her heels. She said that it ever in her life she had told the truth it was certainly now when she declared that her child had been lied about and misrepresented. She declared that Webb's statement that he had seen her daughter sitting astride Goodpaster's lap to be a malicious falsehood. She grew hysterical and vilified Webb so violently and assumed such a threatening attitude towards him, declaring she would whip him then and there, that she had to be forcibly escorted from the room.

The woman declared that she had reared her daughter in a proper manner, caused her to visit Sunday School regularly and that she had been working steadily in a shoe factory for two years. She said she herself had not always done right but had been deporting herself properly in the past year or two.

The mayor charged that Chas. Sanders, an important witness in the case had been purposely spirited away. This his mother, Mrs. Bert Womack vehemently denied, she claiming he had gone to Kentucky for a hunt arranged before the present case was started. She herself proved an interesting witness frequently taking issue with the mayor but gave

Second Presbyterians Have An Enthusiastic Bible Class

One of the most enthusiastic bible classes in the city is the Men's Fellowship Bible Class of the Second Presbyterian church, an organization composed of splendid fellows, who are enthusiastic about their work and who are working untiringly to build up one of the largest classes in this section of the state.

Attorney B. F. Kimble is the teacher and since he assumed charge of the class, the membership has been on the increase. The following is complete roster of the officers, and the various committees:

Walter L. Watson, president; T. E. Bower, vice president; William Gillett, treasurer; Arthur Knowles, secretary.

Membership committee: D. H. Rupert, chairman; G. A. Patten, F. E. Bower, Arthur Knowles, Henry Ruggles, W. S. McConnell, social committee: F. B. Winter, chairman; G. A. Patten, W. E. Gaulb, Charles Debo, E. H. Hamner; financial committee: William Gillett, chairman; H. W. Heer, B. F. Kimble, W. M. Briggs, J. W. Berndt; music committee: B. G. Harris, chairman; Charles Feldpauze, E. C. Lowery, W. H. Bart; publicity committee: John Arthur, F. B. Winter, Howard Harshar, John W. Berndt; devotional committee: C. W. Bidemour, chairman; Drew Leedom, Frank Moore, S. M. Jones; athletics: F. E. Bower, F. B. Winter, W. L. Watson, E. E. Lowry, Arthur Knowles.

Stray Bike Was Found

Officer Calhoun Smith found an abandoned bicycle in front of the First National bank building Thursday night and took it to headquarters for safekeeping.

Mrs. Gusha Pendleton, of Fifth street, will leave next Wednesday for Wolf, Ky., to visit her stepfather, W. G. Morgan, and friends for a week.

Big Music Store To Have Opening

The Hutchinson-Wannan Music Co., located in the Selby block on Gallia street, is in gala attire for the grand opening to be held this evening. It is thought that thousands of people will avail themselves of the opportunity of inspecting this new and up-to-date store, which has been tastefully decorated for the big occasion tonight.

The store has received quite a large number of new musical instruments and the showing made will be equal to that of many of the large city stores. Mr. H. H. Hutchinson, the manager, was all smiles Saturday, when the weather conditions arranged themselves to suit the opening. Plenty of music and souvenirs will be given to the ladies. The opening hours will be between 7 and 10 o'clock, and a most cordial welcome is extended to all.

TWO SQUARES OPENED

The two newly improved squares of Garfield street, between Grant and Seventeenth streets, were opened to travel Friday night.

Grading work continues on the Armstrong Place improvement, but very little work is being done on the Robert Road job, say officials.

Kids Stage Scramble For "Spilled Beans"

The bottom dropped out of a 90-pound pile of candy beans aboard a Gilbert Grocery Company truck going down Second street Saturday morning, leaving a trail of candy strewn all the way from Jefferson to Madison streets.

A wild scramble of youngsters followed and Fred Warner, Lou Kirkendall and various other grown-ups joined in the unexpected feast.

Scaldec Engineer Brought To Home

F. E. Kemp, N. & W. engineer badly burned by steam at Chittaroy, W. Va., Friday morning, when the crown sheet of the engine let go, arrived home on N. & W. passenger train No. 15 Friday afternoon. His face is a mass of blisters; his right leg is seriously burned from the knee down; and his left leg is slightly burned. He was reported resting easy Saturday.

Kemp lives at 1002 Eleventh street and was on the engine when R. H. Robertson was fatally burned.

$1,000,000 PLANT

The McClintic-Marshall Company, who have the contract for furnishing the structural steel for the C. & O. Northern bridge across the Ohio at Sciotoville, are greatly enlarging their plant at Pottstown, Pa.

According to the Railway Review, the company, which has plants at Rankin, Carnegie and Pottstown, Pa., have completed plans to construct a new $1,000,000 plant in addition to the present one at Pottstown.

Woman Speaker At 1st Christian Sunday

A big time is looked for at the First Christian church tomorrow, both morning and evening, owing to the fact that Mrs. John S. Ashbury, of Louisville, Kentucky, secretary superintendent of the Kentucky Christian Bible School Association, will be present at the bible study hour and deliver an address. She brings with her a reputation of being a splendid speaker and her message will no doubt be freighted with much good. It is Superintendent Howland's earnest desire to see a large crowd present, for he wants Mrs. Ashbury to carry back with her a splendid impression of the local school. The attendance at Bible school has not been what it should be for the past few weeks. The Men's Bible class seems to have a struggle hold on the attendance record, and if the outlook counts for anything, the class will maintain said record. More than 100 are looked for tomorrow. The Loyal Daughters, however, maintain they will be in the lead within a fortnight.

Answer Filed

Two of the defendants, T. J. Bennett and William Flowers, in the suit of Jos. H. Brant against Stanton Poole and others, a breach of contract action, have joined with the plaintiff in filing an answer and reply to the cross petition of Stanton Poole and Frank Poole, two other defendants. They deny the allegations of the cross-petition, and contend that the Poles were accorded a final settlement of their claim by the payment to them of $225 on June 9, 1914. Bannan and Bannan and W. J. Meyer prepared the reply and answer.

Boy Scouts Are To Hold Big Debate

The Boy Scout Debating and Literary society will stage their first debate of the present season, Monday evening at Manly M. E. church, beginning promptly at 7 o'clock. This debate will be the first of a series of three between troops 2 and 8, former cup winners. The subject for Monday evening will be: "Resolved, That moving pictures are a benefit to the young." Troop 8 takes the affirmative side with debaters John Snively and Darsie Hamilton. Troop 2 will argue the negative side with Scouts Russell Williams and Marion Garrison. Four better debaters could not be selected for the discussion of this important subject. The public is cordially invited.

Why Plant Runs Slack

The newly started mop factory of Philip Bauer and Son at Seventeenth and Waller streets is purposely running slack time just because of the steady advance in the price of mop yarn. The price has jumped from 9 to 14 cents per pound. Broom corn is also a decided scarcity and is advancing steadily in price and it is estimated that 75 per cent of the crops in the west are damaged.

SALARIED CHOIR, AND OTHER MATTERS ARE DISCUSSED

A Columbus paper has the following extracts and comments on a sermon delivered by Rev. E. A. Powell, of All Saints church, at the Columbus Church of the Good Shepherd, where Rev. Mr. Powell has been preaching the past week:

"The greatest creed of some people today seems to be to hate whisky and say 'To hell with the pope.' In my home town of Portsmouth, in many pulpits, the ministers forgot to preach the gospel, and for fourteen weeks preached nothing but hatred of whisky. Well, they got rid of the whisky, and then they put their hands behind their backs, sang 'Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow' and let Portsmouth go to the devil."

"They forget that these people who had been getting entertainment and pleasure out of the saloon right want something in its place. All Saints' church was the only one that did anything for them. We built a parish house, Dr. Gladen made a dedicatory address, and we put in pool and billiard tables and bowling alleys and invited the young men and young women to come there to dance; then a lot of people thought we were going to hell, too, and if we were, I'm proud of that, too."

"The foregoing are extracts from a sermon preached by Rev. E. A. Powell, of Portsmouth, at the Church of the Good Shepherd last night on the topic, 'The Supreme Need.' This was his fourth sermon in connection with the nation-wide preaching mission being observed by Columbus Episcopal churches."

"It was like a confidential chat with church members about the evils that will creep into a church. The supreme need he held to be that of prayer, and he held up as models the prayer of the woman of Canaan, who asked, 'Lord, help me,' and the publican who asked: 'Lord, be merciful to me a sinner.'"

"Rev. Mr. Powell said that many church members sometimes took the holier-than-thou stand of the Pharisee, and criticized the preacher, the choir, the senior warden, the junior warden and fellow church members."

"The church sometimes fails to get into touch with community life, service."

STRAIGHT FROM THE SHOULDER

The average man is honest, otherwise there would be more in place, all of us, for besides the relief of those places builded of stone, and iron bars and steel cages, than worship at the shrine of good government, and have faith in the religion of the Golden Rule.

More so than under any other circumstances may a man's word be relied upon, when he is telling of relief that he has had from sickness and disease. Read the following:

"Rheumatism had become a nightmare, and a continual torture until I received relief through the use of the 'Master Medicine', so states Chas. Carroll, of 1103 Kendall avenue, Portsmouth."

Tanlac is the "growing" success of modern science in extracting from nature, this that has proven to be the most effective of remedies for the ailments of man. For catarrh of the head, throat and stomach, liver, kidney and intestinal diseases and rheumatism, Tanlac acts like magic in assisting nature to restore normal health.

Tampering With Ballots Is Alleged In Adams Co. Suit

A suit growing out of the election of members of the school board at Manchester, was filed in West Union courts this week by Attorneys Blair & Kimble, of Portsmouth. They represent J. E. McNeil and Percy Doddridge, defeated candidates, and they are suing J. C. Henderson and J. E. Koopke, the successful men on the face of the returns. The Adams county election board is also made a party defendant.

Sensational charges are made in the petition, as to the Manchester election. It is alleged that the ballots were opened by unknown parties the day before the election; that outsiders were allowed to use the voting booths during the election to electioneer for the successful candidates; that ballots were placed in the box by others than election officials; that ballots were opened and inspected before being placed in the box. It is charged that money and liquor were used to corrupt the voters and that minors and persons unauthorized were allowed to vote. It is asked that the ballots be preserved for future examination.

After the election, a social session was held, during which an enjoyable lunch was served. The ceremony of initiation was conferred upon one candidate, Roy G. Evans.

The contest for clerk brought out a record-breaking crowd of 240 members. The best of feeling prevailed throughout the membership, and the winner was warmly congratulated on all sides. Other candidates were R. H. Ruggles, H. Dodds, W. M. Mackey, and C. W. Bauer.

The position of clerk of Portsmouth Camp is a lucrative one, and is usually much sought after. The present clerk, Louis A. Zuehlke, retired from office to devote all his time to the duties of city auditor, to which office he was elected last November.

No other contests developed during the election, which resulted in the selection of the following officers for the coming year: Post Consul, T. C. Patterson; Consul, E. M. Pierce; Advocate, J. E. Starling; Banker, J. A. Vrenger; Clerk, J. R. Hooper; Watchman, Howard Davis; Sentinel, Harry Welch; Trustee, (three years, Don E. Jewell; Camp Physicians, Drs. Harry Schirrmann, W. W. Smith, J. S. Rardin, A. L. Test, D. A. Berndt, W. E. Gault, O. W. Robe, A. R. Moore, J. W. Jordan and C. W. Bauer.

DRY MEN TO CONFER

It was announced Saturday that a state conference of chairmen of the various dry organizations of the state would be held in Columbus early in January. It will be attended by C. M. Weyand, chairman of the Seio County Dry Federation.

It is probable that some action will be taken on the question of whether another fight for statewide prohibition is to be waged next fall or the election is deferred until the year following.

the reduction of $3,325,500 made in the personal property assessment of a large property owner in Portage county.

"The decrease shown in these tables in personal returns is largely due, first, to foot and mouth disease and the attendant decrease in the number of animals in the state, in 1915, as compared with 1914; second very largely to the difference in the amount of food and animals on hand on taxing day, 1915, which was in April as compared with February in 1914; third, the conversion of property which was taxable last year into non-taxable securities.

"The figures given for 1914 do not take cognizance of a decrease of $11,699,000 made in Hamilton county in 1914, after the district assessor's returns had been made, nor do they take cognizance of several other similar reductions quietly made in 1914 after the district assessors' tables had been given out to the public.

"Since the tables on which the 1915 returns for personal property were compiled, increases of over four million dollars have been made in the personal property of Cuyahoga county alone, and it is the belief of the commission that the final result at the end of the year will show little, if any, decrease in the personal property returns for the state.

Increase of valuations of public utilities including real estate not used in operation are as follows:

Steam railroads, $8,995,860; Interurban, $10,658,590; Natural Gas, $3,556,290; Electric Light, $24,590; Artificial Gas, $191,950; Water Trans., $76,390; Union Depot, $390,180; Water Works, $279,090; Pipe line, $6,022,000; Messenger and Signal, $234,590; Heating and Cooling, $600; Telegraphs, $40,090; Telephones, $2,649,840. Total, $33,018,080.

"Taking from the total, the property not used in operation included in the district assessor's returns, the net totals for the duplicate utilities are as follows:

1915—$1,122,246,920; 1914—$1,094,915,330.

"Net increase, $27,331,590. This net increase added to the increase made by the district assessors, makes the net increase in the total duplicate thus far, $136,872,116.

"This record has been made at a comparatively large saving to the taxpayers of the state of Ohio for the year ending December 15th, 1915. The tax commission of Ohio in its own offices spent $40,316.55 as compared with $67,601.60 in 1914—a saving of $27,285.05, or more than 25 per cent. In the expenses of the district assessors, in sixty-six counties so far reporting, there has been a saving in salaries alone of $93,282.34, or approximately $300 per county as compared with 1914."

AS EUROPEAN

ance during the 298 days of the exposition close to 19,000,000.

The previous record for one day was on San Francisco Day, November 2, when 348,472 persons passed through the gates. The total attendance up to eleven o'clock last night was 18,413,349.

Official exercises are scheduled to take place in the court of the Universe. They are to include the reading of President Wilson's International toast, epitomizing the exposition's idealism and achievements, and to conclude with the singing of "America" by the audience.

The evening program includes a carnival pageant of electrically lighted floats in the exposition grounds.

Owing to the European war, which began six months before the opening of the Exposition on February 20, the Exposition directors were forced to feel some anxiety as to the success of their project, but it turned out that the attendance and the financial returns were considerably greater than expected.

The attendance passed the seven million mark on November 19, with the record for a single day being 948,472 visitors on San Francisco day, November 2nd.

The final report on the financial returns may not be prepared for some time, but the last one, covering the period from February 20 to October 31, showed a net cash income of $1,410,576 out of a gross income of $6,043,129.

The conclusion of the Exposition tonight will be signalized by the singing of "Farewell to Thee," from the Tower of Jewels, the highest structure on the ground; by the sounding of taps by a detachment of United States army buglers, and the pressing of a button by C. C. Moore, the president of the Exposition, to extinguish all lights; by the lowering of the countless flags, and a salvo of rockets from the Marianne.

As the lights go out for the last time, Arthur Smith, an aviator, in an illuminated flight, will write "Farewell P. P. L. E." in letters against the sky.

Notwithstanding the war in Europe, it has been triumphs of peace that have been shown most prominently at this Exposition, the avowed purpose of which has been to celebrate the completion of the Panama Canal. In every feature it has been an Exposition of today rather than of historical interest, for no exhibits which were the products of a period antedating the last decade were admitted for awards.

In his final address today, President Moore declared that the conclusion of the exposition marked "an opening of a period of new vigor and prosperity to San Francisco, California and the United States."

For the first time in the history of international exhibitions, the aeroplane, the submarine and the internal combustion engine were exhibited in actual operation. New processes in engineering, mechanics, electricity, manufacturing, mining and sanitation were shown. Such divergent interests as the latest systems of child welfare, oxygenated treatment of metals, modern methods of mine rescue, target practice with great coast fortification guns, playing and explosion of submarine mines, and trans-continental telephone conversation were presented to the public for the first time at an Exposition.

Activities of the submarine, water aerobics and the coast defense guns in action were made possible by the fact that the Exposition grounds of 635 acres bordered on San Francisco Bay near the Golden Gate and the Presidio, a military reservation.

The idea carried out in the general scheme of the palaces was the evolution of architecture from the Grecian period to modern times, Roman, Moorish, Spanish, Italian and French Renaissance ideas were portrayed in the lines of the various buildings.

The most imposing building of all in the belief of almost all visitors was the Palace of Fine Arts. San Francisco some weeks ago inaugurated a movement to preserve it as a monument to the Exposition. To accomplish this it will be necessary to get the permission of the United States government, as the palace stands on the Presidio military reservation.

According to the Exposition management there were about 80,000 different exhibitors, the exhibits being valued at approximately $350,000,000. The total cost of the Exposition in round numbers, was $250,000,000. This includes acquisition of site, construction, administration, maintenance, repairs and final removal of the buildings.

Thirty-nine foreign nations and nearly all of the states of the Union participated officially. Notwithstanding the war, several of the belligerents took part including France, Italy, Japan and Turkey. The other belligerents were represented by exhibits made by their citizens.

During the life of the Exposition more than 800 congresses and conventions were held in San Francisco and the bay cities. These were meetings of national and international organizations representing social, political, fraternal, industrial, economic, religious, medical, agricultural, scientific and various other associations.

Notable persons from all over the world were among the Exposition's visitors. Some of these were William Howard Taft, Theodore Roosevelt, Vice-President Marshall, William J. Bryan, William G. McAdoo, Secretary of the treasury, Speaker Champ Clark, Joseph C. Cannon, the Marquis and Marchioness of Aberdeen, Major General George W. Goethals, Thomas A. Edison and Admiral Dewey, of Japan.

CONSPIRATORS

United States District Attorney H. Snowden Marshall, in moving for sentence said it was his painful duty to ask for substantial punishment not so much for its effects on the defendants, but to serve as a warning to others.

None of the defendants showed any emotion when sentence was pronounced.

Prior to the opening of court they were surrounded by a number of sympathizers with whom they chatted freely.

Dr. Buenz told his listeners that his only regret was that the American people should believe he had done anything to injure or had ever had anything but the kindest feelings toward this country.

Through Mr. Rand, the aged director of the Hamburg-American line asked Judge Howe to take into consideration that his three co-defendants were his subordinates and that if any offense was committed they were merely acting under his orders.

The nominal fine imposed on the Hamburg-American Company was explained by Judge Howe as due to his wish to free the case, as far as possible from the "color of money". He said that there was no evidence to show that the company as such, had entered into any conspiracy, and that it was probable that Dr. Buenz alone had power to bind it in any of the proceedings complained of.

The lighter sentence imposed on Poppians was in recognition of the fact that he occupied a subordinate position and had merely carried out the orders of his superiors without having an active part in the planning of the conspiracy for which they were convicted.

In sentencing Dr. Buenz, Judge

EXPECT RECALL OF GERMAN ATTACHES;
BOY-ED IS SILENT

Howe announced that if the sentence was continued in the higher courts he would be willing to support any move to obtain clemency on the ground of the advanced age of the prisoner.

"This case," said Judge Howe, "will undoubtedly be taken to the court of appeals and to the United States Supreme Court. If sentence is affirmed and it is claimed that imprisonment would be a peril to Dr. Buenz on account of his advanced age, the case will be referred to the executive department of the government. This court will be willing to take any action that may be desirable in support of such a move."

The maximum penalty which could have been imposed on the prisoners under each indictment was two years imprisonment and a fine of $10,000. Each was indicted on two counts, but Judge Howe declared that he considered both indictments to cover one offense.

The trial of Dr. Buenz and his associates was the culmination of an investigation began last winter by federal agents into the charging and sailing of certain vessels from American ports during August, September and December, 1914. It was charged that these vessels, concealing their purpose by false manifests and clearance papers, were engaged in supplying provisions to German cruisers which were raiding British ocean commerce.

Some of them were captured by British warships at sea far from the course on which they ostensibly sailed. Others were reported at ports very different from those from which they cleared. In one instance at least, that of the American steamer Berwind, it was proved that the ship had transferred supplies to two German cruisers.

Weatherly, Lincoln, Neb.; and Lars Nelson, of New York.

Twenty-three members of the party are women. One of these is Miss Elynn Ryan, of Columbus, Ohio, a student at Ohio State University.

Students from Yale, Vassar, Barnard, Dartmouth, Oberlin, Williams, Drake, Vanderbilt and Columbia and the Universities of Kansas, Ohio, Iowa, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Illinois, Nebraska, Michigan and Texas accompanied the expedition.

The peace delegates received large red buttons with white stars with the words "out of the trenches by Christmas."

Mr. Ford with his staff were busy at their headquarters until the last minute but when they left for Hoboken to board the Osceola, it was stated that all arrangements were completed and that there would be no delay in the sailing of the peace ship. The last bunch of passports arrived from Washington today and it was announced that none of the additional applications had been refused.

Before sailing Mr. Ford issued what he called a farewell statement.

"I am sailing with the firm belief," he said, "that great good will come of this mission.

"It will keep alive the thought that peace is possible as well as desirable and so long as that is done hope of peace exists."

"I know little of the details of the working plan of the peace conference but I do know that every effort will be made for an honorable and early peace. If this conference succeeds only in bringing about a beginning of negotiations for peace it will have accomplished a good work."

"My heart is in this work for peace and it is for this reason that I have stood behind the ship and helped the people reach a common meeting place to discuss the possibilities of peace with the representatives of other neutral countries."

Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.

Captain Boy-ed, naval attache of the German embassy, whose immediate withdrawal has been requested by the United States, came here today from New York and had a long conference with Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador. Captain Franz Von Pape, the military attache of the embassy, whose withdrawal also has been asked, is expected to come to Washington soon.

Officials of the German embassy refused to discuss Boy-ed's visit or any developments of the request by the state department.

Secretary Lansing has not yet decided what action, if any, will be taken in the case of the Austro-Hungarian Consul General Von Nuber at New York. The secretary still has the case under consideration.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.—The American government today looked to Germany for the immediate recall of Captains Karl Boy-ed and Franz Von Pape, respectively, naval and military attaches of the German embassy here, in accordance with Secretary Lansing's request.

Alleged improper activities on the part of the German officers in connection with naval and military matters are given as the reason for Secretary Lansing's action. Request for immediate withdrawal was made through Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, who was informed that the officers had rendered themselves persona non grata to the United States.

The case against Boy-ed and Von Pape, although not susceptible of legal proof, consisted of complaints, since the beginning of the European war, which connected them with attempts to violate American neutrality. The state department regarded the complaints as fully justifying the request for withdrawal of the attaches from the diplomatic service of Germany in the United States.

The action of Secretary Lansing had the full approval of President Wilson and his cabinet. The president is said to have decided to get rid of all foreign officials whose activities are considered harmful to the best interests of this country.

This government, it was said today, probably would ask the entire allies for safe conduct for the offending attaches. They are expected to leave at once.

State department officials were considering today what action should be taken in the case of Alexander Von Nuber, Austro-Hungarian consul general at New York, whose name had been linked with those of Captain Boy-ed and Von Pape in connection with activities regarded as objectionable by the United States. The department, it was also said today is considering whether any action should be taken regarding other higher officials of foreign embassies here.

Germany Not Looking For Peace

Berlin, Dec. 4.—(Wireless to Sayville).—Another statement bearing on Germany's reported desire for peace was issued today by the Overseas News Agency.

The reports of German peace proposals are again denied. The news agency also contradicts the assertion that Emperor William is to go to Constantinople. The statement follows:

"French newspapers make it appear that Germany is always looking for peace when she has obtained a military success. This is not only incorrect, but the reverse of the truth.

"It is true that every time France has suffered reverses on the battlefield or in diplomacy the French newspapers have printed reports of German peace proposals in order to revive the spirits of the French people. This is the reason why at the present time the news is being spread all over the world that Germany is seeking peace, why invented reports concerning the mission in Switzerland of Prince Von Buelow, for-

Liner Won In Game Of Tag With Sub

New York, Dec. 4.—Captain Simone Gili, of the Italian steamer Verona, which arrived here today after having been chased by a submarine in the Mediterranean on November 19, said a heavy sea which caused the submarine to roll and pitch was the chief factor in enabling the steamer to elude the undersea boat. Captain Gili said the submarine did not fly a flag, nor did it appear to have a number and he said there was no way he could tell whether it was German or Austrian. Other officers, however, expressed the belief that the craft was a German U boat.

"We were about 110 miles west of the straits of Bonifacio on November 19," said Captain Gili, "when a large submarine appeared on the surface about two miles off our starboard side and slightly astern. There were no signals, and I immediately put on all speed possible, and steered a course so that the submarine would be forced to take the heavy sea at a quartering angle. Although the sea which was then running, was not heavy enough to materially bother the Verona, it caused the submarine to roll, pitch, and the crew were unable to aim either of the two deck guns at us. We saw the submarine later received a radio message saying a French torpedo boat destroyer had gone in search of the submarine.

Shortly after 5:30 o'clock it became dark and after continuing on my course a short distance, I cut a wide semi-circle and completely lost the submarine."

Wife Drinks To Excess
Says Divorce Petition

Suit for divorce was filed in common pleas court this morning by Albert T. Gerlach, husband of Maggie Gerlach, whom he charges with gross neglect of duty. The petition was prepared by Attorney Horace L. Small, who represents Gerlach.

In his petition, Gerlach claims that his wife uses intoxicating liquor to excess, and entertains men at her home whose names are unknown to him. When he would remonstrate with her, he claims that she would curse and abuse him.

Gerlach asks for divorce and custody of the children. The couple were married February 22, 1910, and have two children, the petition says.

Officer Herb Watson found James Ackerman of the Seaboard, helplessly drunk at Twelfth and Railroad streets and arrested him Saturday afternoon.

DAMAGES REDUCED BY COURT

Several days ago, Eliza King of the Gallia Pike was awarded a verdict of $830 damages by a jury in common pleas court from the United Fuel Gas company for its action in turning off the gas supply into her home.

This morning Judge G. M. Osborn, representing the gas company argued a motion for a new trial of the case on the ground that the amount of the judgment was excessive. After hearing the arguments of counsel Judge Osborn reduced the judgment to $250, and advised the plaintiff's attorney that unless that amount was accepted the entire verdict would be set aside and a new trial ordered.

Just what action will be taken by the plaintiff will not be known until she has an opportunity to confer with her counsel, Milner, Miller and Seal.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Rankins have moved to Middletown.

IS YET TIME

Any order left with us for a new Suit or Overcoat during the coming week, will be ready for delivery in plenty of time for Christmas. Remember, we do no hasty work, of the slap-bang, get-together-any-old-way. Each garment is made up in our experts, and not a stitch is misplaced. We give each suit or overcoat that leaves our shop special attention. It must measure up to the Schwartz Standard, else it remains right with us.

PROBABLY WE HAVE HIS MEASURE and you desire to present to him a new suit or overcoat. We will gladly assist you in the selection of cloth, although you could not go wrong, for our stock of individual patterns measures right up to the highest possible perfection mark. He will be one of the best dressed men on Christmas if his suit or overcoat comes from Schwartz. Well dressed men usually have us build their clothes. And, like other things, "There's a reason."

DAMAGE CASE SETTLED

In probate court this morning, Judge L. Sutton, administrator of the estate of the late Jesse Sutton, was authorized to accept $150 from the Whitaker-Glessner Steel Company in settlement of the damage suit against the company. Jesse Sutton was killed several months ago while in the employ of the steel company, and the administrator brought suit against the company in which criminal negligence on the part of the company was charged. The damage suit in common pleas court has been dismissed. Attorney Blair and Kimble represented the administrator in the negotiations.

DAMAGE SUIT FILED

Damages for $500 from James P. Johnson and Robert Hodges are sought by Harry W. Mathiott in a suit filed this morning in the common pleas court by William J. Meyer.

In his petition, Mathiott claims that he is the owner of Lot 87 in the Castle Hill Allotment in Port Townsend, a frontage of 73 feet of which faces the Seletoville and Harrisonville Pike. He claims that the defendants without his permission, dug a large ditch between his property and the pike, which caused his property to slip and thereby render it difficult for ingress and egress and unsightly in appearance.

WILL ATTEND DEDICATION

The local council of the Jr. O. U. A. M. has accepted an invitation issued by the New Boston Juniors to take part in the school dedication in the village Sunday afternoon to which the public is invited. The Jr. O. U. A. M. band will play at the dedication. All Jr. O. U. A. M. members are urged to meet at the hall at one o'clock. A special car has been chartered and every member of the band should be at the hall before 1 o'clock. Members will be picked up at the different car stops.

Mule Suit In Court

In answer to the petition of Charles Shomberg against the county board of supervisors, a suit for damages for loss of mules in an accident at the Seletoville bridge approach near Seletoville, for which he holds the county responsible, was overruled by Judge Thomas in common pleas court this morning. The defendants were given thirty days to file an answer. Arnold Schuchman is Shomberg's attorney.

Yankee Club Will Meet

All members of the Yankee Athletic Club are urged to meet at the club headquarters on Galia street, near Frank Baker's shoe store, Monday evening. Important business will be transacted. All gymnasium equipment has been moved to the new hall.

New Trial Is Refused

In common pleas court this morning, Judge Thomas overruled a motion for a new trial in the case of the Sheridans against the Sheridan Contracting Company, a personal injury damage suit, which was brought in favor of the defendant. The case was brought by George W. Sheridan, plaintiff, and Blair and Kimble for the defendant.

Mr. DeBruin Will Sing

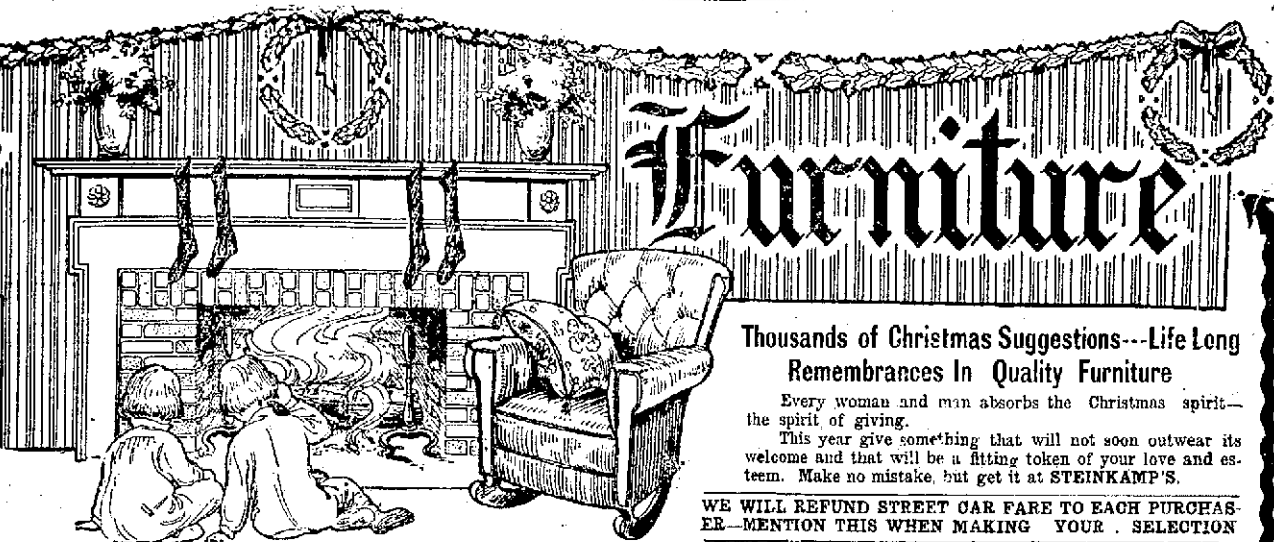

Mr. De Bruin, of Winchester, will sing at the Elks' musical service Sunday afternoon, following a solo at the Sunday school service at All Saints Episcopal church.

DOCTORS MAKE STATEMENT CONCERNING MEDICAL DAY

As some misunderstanding still seems to exist concerning the free medical examination day, Dec. 8th, the local public health examination committee, Drs. Robe, Rogers and Tatje, wish to state that this examination is being held under the auspices of the Ohio State Public Health Committee, which was appointed by the Ohio State Medical Association. Similar examinations will be held in all cities and towns of the state on this day, the idea being to instruct the public on the importance of consulting a physician on the first appearance of symptoms of disease. The examinations will be made gratis regardless of the financial standing of the applicants and applicants will be referred to their family physician. The physicians conducting this examination are rendering their services gratuitously. The following is the program. The examinations will be held at the council chamber on December 8th, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. The following physicians, Drs. W. W. Smith, W. D. Schaefer and F. H. Williams will be in attendance for the examination of general diseases, such as tuberculosis, diseases of head, kidneys and digestive organs, and Drs. Marshall and Mytinger for the examination of persons having any disease of eye, ear, nose and throat. Trained nurses from Hempstead hospital will be in attendance. Every person who feels that they have any indication of disease are urged to avail themselves of this opportunity.

O. W. ROBE, Chairman.

O. D. TATJE, Committee.

NEW BOSTON

Lou Hickman, of Gallia street, after spending all of Friday afternoon in trying to shoot the brush off York's hill, captured one rabbit.

The Mission Circle of the Baptist church meets Monday evening with Miss Margaret Sutton, Gallia street. James Snyder, horse trader, arrived here with seven head of horses Saturday.

George Jones, Martin Slaughter, Pat McGovern and Sam Meyers, in the latter's automobile, motored to Larcassville Saturday morning and spent the day in hunting.

The extension of the Glenwood sewer is half completed. Jesse Payton; George Semones, Jack Meeks and Rollie Dailey started work Saturday afternoon building winter "lodge" on top of Elkoff hill.

Leonard Leslie seems to be a firm believer in the high cost of living. A rabbit Leslie killed Thursday cost him $10.75. He paid $1.25 for a house, $100 for shells, ruined a $5 pair of trousers in going through a fence and wore out a pair of $3 shoes.

Mrs. Burke Lawson, of Gallia street, who has been seriously ill for sometime, remains about the same.

Will Jenkins and family, of Gallia street, have returned from a visit with relatives near White Gravel.

John Noel, J. C. Harris, Martin Hall, W. I. Davis and Thomas O'Neal, with William McAdams, met at the home of the latter Friday evening and named Dec. 21 as the date for the W. O. W. political banquet to be enjoyed by the successful candidates in the recent election. Oyster soup, hamburger, coffee and ice cream will be on the bill of fare.

John Ralph is the name of the baby son who arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson, of Stewartsville recently.

Walter Lee, who started to work at the Breece Manufacturing plant Friday, did not complete a day's work before receiving an injury. A heavy piece of lumber fell on his right foot, slightly mauling the member.

Harry Turner, of the city, was initiated at the W. O. W. meeting on Thursday evening.

All members of council are urged to be present at the regular meeting Monday evening.

All members of the Jr. O. U. A. M. are requested to meet at the hall Sunday morning, at nine o'clock. The members will march to the Stanton avenue school and decorate the auditorium. The public is invited to attend the dedication exercises to be held at two o'clock. A splendid program of music, addresses and recitations has been arranged. The Jr. O. U. A. M. will present two flags to the schools.

Members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church met in the basement of the church Thursday. It was decided to hold no more meetings in the basement this winter meetings hereafter being at the homes of members. Plans for the banquet that is to be tendered the married men's class by the married women's class for next Tuesday evening were discussed. Next Thursday the meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Sarah Couley, on Pine street. After next Thursday meetings will be held at the home of Mrs. Burroughs. Anyone having sewing to do should leave it with any of the members of the society.

Members of the W. C. W. Circle will meet in semi-monthly session Saturday evening in Davis hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hall, of Wait's Station, are visiting at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hall, of Ohio avenue. Mrs. Martin Hall has been ill for several days.

Will Huff is installing electric lights in the village fire truck house. The truck has failed to arrive within the specified time of 10 days.

A fine time was had by members of the George Ditty Camp, W. C. W. lodge Thursday evening in Davis hall. After a short business session officers were elected for the ensuing year. Following the election the members partook of a banquet.

Martin Hall, John Noel and John Payton formed the committee in charge of arrangements. The election resulted as follows: Councilor commander, John Payton; advising lieutenant, E. G. Payton; banker, Clarence McGinnis; secretary, Thos. D. O'Neal; manager, James Coffey; inside sentinel, Wade Hensley; outside sentinel, Chester Sanford; escort, Earl Trautman; examiner, Dr. W. G. Cheney.

Will Huff, Gallia street plumber, installed two 200 candle power Shelsby electric lights in front of the William Center grocery.

The Daughters of America will meet tonight (Friday).

On complaint of Will Shover, Marshal W. I. Davis arrested Frank Collins and Ernest Briggs Thursday afternoon. It is alleged they tore down fodder in the Shover field, east of the Steel plant.

Mrs. Louis Snyder, of Wheelersburg, and mother, Mrs. Alice Finney, of Sciotoville, returned to their homes Friday after a visit to Dr. and Mrs. Chellis Dawson, on Vine street.

First quality work at reasonable prices, Brechmer, the Painter.

REV. MARTING ON PROGRAM

Rev. Albert L. Marting, pastor of the Fourth Street Methodist church, was one of the speakers at the Central German Conference ministerial institute at Berca, O., Friday.

Under Advisement

Judge Thomas has taken under advisement a demurrer to the petition of George Wise against Alexander T. Davis, argued by C. M. Searl, counsel for the defendant, in common pleas court this morning. Wise claims that he was employed by Davis to dig two cellars, one of which he received $25.50 on a contract for $91.50, leaving a balance of $71.00, for which he asks judgment. F. T. Moreland is Wise's attorney.

INTERSTATE TAXI AND TOURING CAR IN CRASH

A serious automobile collision, in which one man was hurt and a touring car and a taxi cab of the Interstate Transfer company figured took place at 10:30 o'clock at Gallia and Waller streets Saturday morning.

Charles Marting, of Sciotoville, who was driving Frank Esman's car had his right eye injured and suffered painful contusions. Oakley Reno who was driving the taxi escaped injury. Mr. Marting was driving east on Gallia street and Mr. Reno was driving the taxi south on Waller street when the two cars collided with great force. The Esman car being tossed on the sidewalk. Both rear wheels of this machine were badly damaged, the radiator was twisted, one fender was ripped off and one running board was damaged.

The front axle of the Interstate taxi was bent, the radiator was damaged and the front wheels, lights and fender were damaged.

GREEK CARGOES ARE HELD UP

Paris, Dec. 4.—The entente powers consider Greece is taking too long to reflect upon the answer to their demands and have decided to apply again the economic measures which were used with such effect a fortnight ago, says the Figaro.

The newspaper declares orders have been given prohibiting the departure from allied ports of all ships with cargoes consigned to Greece and stopping immediately the loading of Greek vessels.

NEW MOTOR TRUCK IS READY FOR USE

New Boston's $1,350 motor fire truck arrived at the B. & O. S-W. station Saturday noon and was immediately unloaded. Frank White recently named custodian of the truck, drove it to New Boston and made several trial runs.

The machine has 60 horse power, carries 1,000 feet of single jacket hose, has a 25 gallon chemical tank, hand chemical extinguishers, 16 foot extension ladder, lanterns, axes and helmets. The truck is 18 feet long.

WISE NOT WISE ENOUGH TO ESCAPE FINE FROM THE MAYOR

George Wise was tried in police court Saturday for stealing rubber from Max Jacobs' yards, corner Eleventh and Washington streets.

Wise admitted visiting the Jacobs premises but denied the theft. The mayor expected to bind him over to the grand jury in the sum of $100, but Mr. Jacobs did not want any hardship on the man or his family and asked for a light penalty. This was possible when the defendant threw himself upon the mercy of the court and he was let off with a fine of $25 and costs.

SAY PUMPS ARE ALMOST READY

Mayor Adam Frick and other officials, together with the J. F. Witmer company, engineers, have just been advised by the John H. McGowan company of Cincinnati, that unless unforeseen conditions arise it will be ready to have final inspection made on its pumping machinery work at the water works on December 15th. S. C. Pollard, the McGowan company's advisory engineer, will be here for the inspection. The company expects its work to be approved and to receive its final estimate on the contract.

A Godsend To Me

I Can Feel Safe In Saying That It Saved My Life

Mrs. Charles Anson, R. R. 7, Lancaster, Ind., writes: "Peruna has been a god send to me. I can feel safe in saying that it saved my life, as I was all run down and was just miserable when I commenced taking your Peruna, but am on the road to recovery now. I cannot thank you too much."

Mrs. Nellie E. Rogan, R. F. D. 2, Westfield, N. Y., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from sick headaches, but am now entirely free from that trouble. I would recommend Peruna and Manilla to all sufferers."

Those who object to liquid medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.

Former Gang Men Getting Into Game; Mayor-Elect Nervous

Another day has come and gone without official announcement by Mayor-elect Kaps of any of his appointments, which, he gave out earlier in the week, were to have been made last Thursday morning.

The opinion, based largely on the mayor-elect's own statements to his friends, will not down that his original slate will undergo a number of changes. Mr. Kaps has made it plain that he will not appoint any one to office who has proven himself incapable of respecting his confidence.

In the final analysis, those men who are held responsible for divulging state secrets will be left out in the cold, and others chosen in their stead.

Another fact which must not be regarded lightly is the activity manifested by former party leaders of commanding power and influence who have participated in the secret conferences of the past two days.

A week ago, these same men were taking only a passive interest in the matter of appointments, leaving the mayor-elect to rely on his own counsel and the advice of a new coterie of advisors who had earned his good will by loyal support at the primary and general elections.

It was when they realized what a mess had been made of the whole affair, that the old, experienced leaders injected themselves into the conferences and attempted to bring order out of chaos. The old gang has won Kaps away from the Boy Scouts and it is said he will do what his new advisors want.

It is this condition of affairs that makes the chances of Charles Hancock for fire chief and John Phillips for superintendent of the water works crew look so much brighter than they did last Wednesday afternoon when they were virtually counted out, and also so seriously threatens the aspirations of E. K. S. Clunker, who may have to revise his speech accepting the appointment of safety director.

There is a strong probability that John Bergen will also be seen in his old familiar place, on the water works crew when January 1st rolls around. "Nergie" was seen to enter the Masonic Temple about the time that the leaders were in secret conference over the question of appointments and it is presumed that he presented his claim in his usually careful and convincing manner.

As one of the minor preliminaries to the main bout, the fight between Fred Brodbeck, white, and Henry Walton, colored, for the appointment as market master to succeed J. M. Faverty, the present incumbent, is the most interesting at present.

Each of them have been wearing out good shoe leather going back and forth from Charles E. Hard's office in the Masonic Temple to Mayor-elect Kaps' office in the First National Bank building, presenting their claim for recognition.

Walton has been made to believe that he is the new power in the colored precincts of the North End, and is now calling upon the new mayor to make good his promise to remember the colored brethren when it came to dishing out the political crumbs. He points to the big majorities given Kaps in the precincts in the Third ward which contain the bulk of the colored vote as reasons why he should receive the post.

Brodbeck bases his claim on the fact that both parties have always given the position to a white man in the past, and says that no one has fought more loyally in the ranks than he. So far, the question of the more important appointments has kept the appointing powers too busy to such attention.

Charlie Hancock, who felt so sure of again riding in the little wheeled wagon of the fire chief, had arranged to give up his present job, got busy Friday in building a little fire under Dan Thomas who was vigorously opposing his selection. Thomas' opposition was supposed to have been responsible for Kaps' decision to appoint George Koerner, the thing that puzzled Hancock and his friends was that Thomas told Hancock a short time ago that he was for him for fire chief.

Hancock camped around the "Come-Seven-Or-Eleven" headquarters and finally got to the ear of Kaps. Later he and Kaps went out to have a heart-to-heart talk with Dan Thomas about the matter and held a protracted conference. It is said that Daney had cracked a little and so Hancock feels more cheerful.

NEGRO DYNAMITER PLEADS GUILTY TO MANSLAUGHTER; GETS TERM IN REFORMATORY

Judge Thomas in common pleas court Saturday morning consented to receive a plea of guilty to manslaughter from Albert Marshall, colored man, who was indicted recently on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the blowing up by dynamite of a railroad construction camp near Sevierville last August.

Marshall was given a trial on that indictment before a jury in common pleas court about two weeks ago, at the conclusion of which the jury disagreed as to his guilt. He was to have been tried again on the same charge some time in January.

Prosecuting Attorney Joseph Micklethwait was advised Friday afternoon by Marshall's attorneys, George W. Sheppard and Mark A. Crawford, that their client was ready to enter a plea of guilty to the charge of manslaughter. He recommended to Judge Thomas this morning that the plea be accepted, and that the indictment charging first degree murder be nolleed. The court acted upon his recommendation.

This afternoon Judge Thomas sentenced Marshall to an indefinite term in the Mansfield Reformatory, and he will be taken to that institution some time next week.

The court made every effort to find Marshall information that would throw more light on the crime, but Marshall would enter that plea in common pleas and nothing more to what he told on the witness stand at the time of his trial. He related the story again to Judge Thomas this morning, going over the details from the time John Henry Smith and Henry Barker called him out of a shanty until the match was applied to the fuse. He implicated Smith and Barker as the principals in the crime, and claimed that they forced him to accompany them at the point of a gun.

Marshall also told of a conversation which, he claimed, he had with John Henry Smith since they have been in jail, during which Smith said to him: "If you get a chance to get out, if you come clear, I'll have to go, as you're the only one who knows anything about the explosion."

Judge Thomas also asked Marshall if he knew who the foreigners who were furnishing liquor to the men in the camps, but he said he did not. Marshall admitted that he and Smith and Barker were under the influence of liquor that night.

Not satisfied that Marshall had told all Judge Thomas sent him back to jail and recalled him again this afternoon, but he said he could not add anything to his story. He was then sentenced to Mansfield.

Attorneys Sheppard and Crawford also advised John Henry Smith to plead guilty to manslaughter, and he will probably enter that plea in common pleas court Monday. His plea will be accepted by the court.

WILL OPEN ANOTHER ROOM IN NEW SCHOOL

The Clay township board of education, at a meeting this afternoon, decided to put seats in the township house near the present school building on the Scioto Trail, and open another school room to the pupils. The present one-room school is overcrowded.

W. L. Rieley, the assistant superintendent, attended the meeting. E. O. McCowan, the county superintendent, attended a meeting of the Ashington township board of education at Bertha this afternoon.

Loaded inside and out with "firewater," John is bad actor.

"White Wing" John Henderson, carrying a big supply of firewater both inside and out, boldly staggered into a home at the northeast corner of Third and Washington streets, and proceeded to rock himself to sleep in a chair Saturday morning. The occupants of the home were absent at the time and neighbors notified the police. Officer Stokely took charge of him. A couple of pints of whiskey and an empty flask were found in his pockets. He was locked up at the city prison.

Sensation at Grayson, Ky.

Cadiz is favored as school site.

A Grayson, Ky., dispatch tells of the arrest there Friday of J. E. Metlone, circuit court clerk of Carter county on warrants sworn to by a state examiner following a report of an inspector that fraudulent claims had been made upon the state for more than $12,000.

Metlone was taken to Frankfort for trial. It is alleged that Metlone doctored trials that never existed and brought fictitious witnesses from distant parts of Kentucky, collecting big mileage fees. Cases of house breaking, arson, malicious shooting, etc., appear on the docket and witnesses have been put down for fees.

The inspector charged, where no case existed. The dispatch adds that Metlone admitted his guilt to Sheriff James Potts, saying he forged every step, the indictment, subpoenas, bonds, and ever the jury verdicts. He has a wife and eight children.

General Luis Herrera is reported journeying Santa Rosa, Chihuahua, about 100 miles south of the capital. Santa Rosa was evacuated by Villa forces Thursday.

Miss Ahmed At Old Harem

Washington, Dec. 4.—Electrically warmed soldiers in the winter trenches is the latest Austrian invention, reported today by an American attaché at The Hague. Fine flexible wires are woven into the fabric. Connection is made by each wearer with a cable running along the trench and fed from a generator in the rear. About 250 watts of current is used at thirty to fifty volts, costing one to two cents per hour per man. The suits weigh a little less than two pounds and cost about $20 each.

Columbus, O., Dec. 4.—After refusing for twenty-four hours to open the report of the special commission in charge of the selection of a site for a new state normal school in Eastern Ohio, Governor Willis upon urgent requests of representatives of some of the towns this afternoon broke the seal on the envelope containing the report. The governor announced that the report, as had been forecast, recommended Cadiz as the proposed site.

London, Dec. 4.—Reuter's Bucharest correspondent telegraphs the Rumanian military authorities have announced that all steamships, barges, tugs, and other craft anchored in Rumanian ports, belonging to foreign or private Rumanian companies, will be commandeered on Monday, in the interest of national defense.

MEXICAN FORCES ARE READY TO FIGHT

Douglas, Ariz., Dec. 4.—Indications point to the development of a general battle today between the Carranza and Villa forces in Sonora. It is believed that the battle front would extend twelve miles along the track of the Nazario railroad, which connects with Agua Prieta, the Mexican fortified town opposite here.

The railway is being guarded by Carranza troops. Forces of the Villa leader are reported to be advancing from the vicinity of Hacienda Mababi, 25 miles southwest of Fronteras, and twenty miles west of Esqueda.

It was "Irish" night at the regular weekly meeting of the Geeks Friday evening and a bully time was had by all those present.

What was lacking in the number of members present was made up in enthusiasm which was unbounded and there was launched a movement to inaugurate a membership campaign that promises to insure a steady growth of this popular social organization.

So well have the affairs of the new order been conducted by the present officers in charge that with few exceptions they were honored with re-election at the meeting.

The officers chosen were the following: Charles W. Wilson, Past Glorious Geek; St. Straus, Glorious Geek; Sam Williams, Glorious Geek; Dr. Jos. Gill, Grave Geek; Dr. Jos. Lake, Gravy Geek; Fred W. Baesman, Graphite Geek; Louie Levi, Galling Geek; Ed Kelly, Explosive Geek; Julius P. Hoerl, Gabby Geek; Harry Porter, Guardian Geek; Gus Hoemer, Albert Maier and Dr. Chellis H. Dawson, Gay Geeks. The officers will be installed Friday night, December 17.

It is hoped to give the membership campaign impetus at the next meeting and if possible bring the number of Geeks up to the one hundred mark before the first of the year. Probate Judge T. C. Beatty, whose untiring efforts in behalf of the youth of the city are both recognized and appreciated by the Geeks will be invited to address the members at this meeting. Geek Lake was also appointed as a committee of one to provide a musical program for this occasion, be it only "chin music."

Plans were also perfected Friday night for carrying out the chief charitable work of the organization, that of shoeing the worthy poor boys and girls of the city. It is expected to distribute at least 400 pairs of shoes in Portsmouth this winter. Each Geek is provided with an order book good for ten pairs of shoes. Should he encounter a child in need of shoes and upon personal investigation find him or her to be worthy he may supply the youngster with an order for shoes. St.

Straus will have charge of the distribution having consented to look after the work free of charge, for which he has been warmly commended by his fellow members.

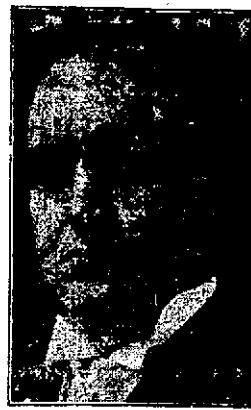

It is in their social sessions that the Geeks are shown to best advantage. Good cheer and good fellowship prevailed at the spread served at the conclusion of the business session Friday night. The Glorious Geek Straus proved a happy toastmaster. Responses were made by everybody present. The irresponsible "stuttering" Sam Williams of Sister Steptoe and Portland Cement fame and Charles W. Wilson, who did the wonderful in cining the city service directorship without having to go behind a dry goods box, to accomplish it, were among the stellar entertainers. Dr. Gill also shone as a soloist while Kelley brought down the house with some good ones of the Old Sod.

It, however, remained for a Gakabo, the title conferred upon honorary guests, to carry the feast board by storm. He was Robert E. Byers, of the Byers Gerlach company, sales and advertising agents, who have just located in Portsmouth. Mr. Byers, a former Chillicothean is in a class by himself as an after dinner speaker. His clever witticisms were easily the feature of the evening and he qualified so strongly as a Geek booster that a new office was purposely created, and he was unanimously chosen for the place, namely that of Gusk Geek.

A "Yiddisher" social will be the diversion at the next meeting of the Geeks. A heavy penalty is provided against any member who might so far forget himself as to inflict anything dealing with any other nationality, when set programs are specified.

Miss Ryan On Peace Ship

Miss Elinor Ryan, a daughter of Hon. Daniel J. Ryan, of Columbus, former secretary of state and native of Portsmouth, has gone to Europe on the Henry Ford peace ship as one of the peace commissioners from Ohio. Miss Ryan is a senior at the Ohio State University and was selected as a commissioner by Dean Caroline Breyfogle, of the university.

The following is from the Columbus Dispatch: "Final word from Henry

Ford, in the form of a night letter, has been received by President W. O. Thompson of Ohio State university, accepting Miss Elinor Ryan as a passenger on the Ford peace ship, which sails for Europe Saturday morning. Miss Ryan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Ryan, 237 Woodland avenue, and is a senior at Ohio State University.

"Miss Ryan was suggested by Dean Caroline Breyfogle of the university after she had received a telegram from

Mr. Ford asking her to nominate a young woman who could meet the requirements of the Cecil Rhodes scholarship, there being a scarcity of college women in the peace party. Miss Ryan has accepted and will leave for New York Thursday night.

"Ohio State university's representative in the novel peace excursion is chairman of the social service committee mittee of the Y. W. C. A., a worker at the Godman Guild and a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority."

VISITOR FINDS DOCTOR'S RESIDENCE ON FIRE

The casual visit of Miss Carolyn Burkel to the home of Dr. H. A. Moffey, at Fourth and Gay streets, at about three o'clock Friday afternoon probably saved the house from being consumed by fire.

Mrs. Moffey was upstairs at the time, and Miss Burkel, unable to receive a response to her knocks, peered through the window in the door. The sight that met her eyes filled her with terror. One whole side of the kitchen was ablaze.

She hurriedly gave the alarm, and neighbors came to her assistance and extinguished the flames with buckets of water. The damage was slight, as the fire had not gained much headway.

It is thought that a piece of washing which had been hung on a line above the gas stove fell down on the stove and was ignited, the flames spreading to the wall nearby.

Germany Enjoying Big Crop Of Fruit

Berlin, Dec. 4.—The unusually large crop of fruit throughout Germany this fall has made unnecessary the existence of a conservation organization known as the "War Committee of the Fruit Manufacturing Industry." This, composed of manufacturers of preserves and marmalades, was formed when it was feared that large quantities of fruit would go to waste unless some step was taken to make it into substitutes for butter and fat.

Individual manufacturers all over Germany have taken the initiative themselves, however, and report that because of the good season they have produced twice and in some cases three times as much marmalade as usual. Virtually all the rest of the crop not so used has been eaten as fresh fruit. No less than 200 German cities have imported carloads of apples, pears and like for their populations. Eight and Waller Streets.
George F. Horst, Minister.

Billy Sunday told his Philadelphia hearers about a man who was starting for a lumber camp, to whom a friend said, "You'd better look out up there; you'll have a good time if they don't find out that you are a Christian; but if you let them know that you are a Christian, it will be different." After awhile the man got back from the camp. His friend asked, "Well, how did it go when they found out you were a Christian?" "They never did find out," was the answer. Tomorrow morning Dr. Horst will speak upon the subject, "The Sin of Silence."

The soul thirsts for sympathy. It hungers for love. Baffled and broken, it seeks a Great Heart. For the poor hunted David, Jonathan was a refuge in the time of storm, a shadow of a rock in a weary land. Tomorrow evening the subject will be "The Shadow of a Rock in a Weary Land."

THE ASSOCIATED BIBLE STUDENTS Brady Hall, City Street, Corner Robinson Avenue.

Services every Sunday at 9:30 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m. Morning service is "The Atonement."

This study brings out the fact and the necessity of the vicarious atonement, when in our day the disbelief in this is growing. Evening service is "The Kingdom Come," and surely we can all more fervently express this wish in these times of troubles and turmoil.

In the afternoon, at 2:30, we will hold service in "The Temple Theater," when Pastor W. H. Spring will speak on "Weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth."

All should hear this sermon, as it is pertinent to these times we are now living in, when we see so many cherished schemes ending in sorrow and disappointments. It will be an hour well spent to listen to this gifted Bible scholar, who uses only the Scriptures as his text-book. It is free, and no collection.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Lesson X.—Fourth Quarter, For Dec. 5, 1915.

Text of the Lesson, II Chron. xvi, 8-21—Memory Verse, 16—Golden Text, Prov. xii, 25—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Our studies thus far have made us acquainted with many people, good and bad, some better than others and some worse than others, but none without failure, and no rest for our souls but in the God of Israel, who often appeared as a man and in the fullness of time became man for us, God manifest in the flesh. Our study today concerns a king whose reign was the longest of any, being fifty-two years, but he became proud and self-willed and died a leper. The study of these lives is helpful only as, by analogy or contrast, we learn to know the Living God, the God of Israel, for the whole Bible is intended to make us acquainted with God that we may love and trust and serve Him and make Him known. Let us give a few minutes to Amaziah, the son of Joash and the father of Uzziah, whose record is in chapter xvi.

He did right in the sight of the Lord in a measure as for a time trembled at the Lord, but the whole to be bad. He turned away from following the Lord, bowed down to idols and burned incense to them, and when the Lord sent a prophet to reprove him he compelled him to forswear (verses 14-16, 27).

There was one incident in his life the record of which contains a saying which has often helped me and which I have often passed on to others. He lived 100,000 mighty men of valor out of Israel to help him in battle, and he paid them 100 talents of silver. A man of God was sent to him to say that he would not use these men, for the Lord was not with them and that God had power to help and to cast down. In reply to his question, "But what shall we do for the 100 talents paid to Israel?" he was told, "The Lord is able to give thee much more than this" (verses 6-9). We need to remember that God Himself hath power to help, and if we make an unwise investment or lose anything we may find comfort in the fact that the Lord is able to give us much more.

As to Uzziah, although his reign is the longest of any, his record is one of the shortest, for there seems to be but little to record. In some lives much is accomplished in a few years, while in others a long life is comparatively fruitless because God is not in it. It is said that he did right in the sight of the Lord, and as long as he sought the Lord, God made him to prosper (xxvi, 4, 5). God helped him against the Philistines and Arabians; he built towers in Jerusalem and in the desert, digged many wells (for he had much cattle) and loved husbandry. His name spread far abroad, and he was reverently helped till he was strong (verses 1-3). His work seems to be more for his own name than the name of the Lord and nothing enduring, and all the time he seemed to be growing more self important, growing away from the Lord, seeing himself and those who praised him.

What a contrast to Saul of Tarsus, who from the day that he saw the Lord Jesus on the way to Damascus could see no one else unless he might draw them to Him, for whose excellency he counted all things but dross and in whom alone he gloried. The whole story of the daily life is either self or Christ. The true life is denying self and magnifying the Lord. What an utter failure man is apart from God, for when this man became strong his heart was lifted up against God, and he was degraded against the Lord his God and began to burn with envy in the holy place in the temple of the Lord, a thing which only the priests were authorized to do. When the priests ordered him out he became angry, and then the Lord smote him in his forehead with leprosy, and he himself hastened to go out. He dwelt in a separate house and died a leper (verses 10-21). In Gehazi the sin was covetousness and lying, but in this man it was pride, self conceit, self will. All consummation of sin, as in these and similar cases, points us onward to the man of sin, the greatest representative of the devil that ever was or will be, who will oppose and exalt himself above all that is called God or that is worshiped, . . . showing himself that he is God (II Thess. ii, 3-12; Dan. vi, 36; Rev. xiii). But he shall be overcome and cast into the lake of fire at the coming of the Lord (Rev. xx).

Many who have died lepers have gone home to heaven because redeemed with the precious blood of Christ, and we may meet Gehazi and Uzziah there, too, for the suggestion in their sins need not imply the loss of the soul, but rather, the loss of service, as in I Cor. iii, 9-11. It is our privilege to walk with God all the way, to serve Him without turning aside and to receive a full reward at the coming of our Lord (II John viii; I John ii, 28). Isaiah seems to have begun his prophecy in the days of Uzziah, and he has much to say about loftiness being humbled, haughtiness bowed down and the Lord alone exalted.

When I think of Uzziah I feel led to pray that I may never be strong except in the Lord and always remember that His strength is made perfect in weakness. I also think of the record of Uzziah's death in Isa. xl, 1, and hear the prophet say what amounts to this, "I saw a king that never dies."

Of Christ are urged to go to the meeting. The men of all three churches, and those of the particular church will meet for a fine service in the afternoon. Harry Edwards will make the address. Music by a male quartet. All our other services will be held as usual on Sunday and midweek. Let all the members try to be present at the morning service, as this is their service. M. D. Bryant, pastor.

ALLEN CHAPEL A. M. E. CHURCH Seventh Street.

9 a. m., Sunday school, Mr. Grant Motte, superintendent. All scholars are requested to be present, as Christmas is approaching and there are many things to be done.

10:30, preaching by the pastor. This is a big day in the history of the church. The captains of the twelve tribes will make their final report at the evening service. We are expecting to hear a good report from every member. Let none make excuses, but rather do your duty or at least your best.

8 p. m., Christian Endeavor, Mrs. Madie Anderson, president. The "Pushers" are gaining on the "Pullers."

7 p. m., preaching by the pastor. Subject, "Excuses." Don't fail to hear this special sermon.

Sunday school at 9 o'clock, J. R. Buckley, superintendent.

Junior R. Y. P. U. at 1:30.

Senior R. Y. P. U. at 6:15.

The pastor is out of the city and there will be no morning sermon.

Rev. W. W. Crabtree will preach in the evening at 7 o'clock, using as his theme, "Decision." The church band will lead in the song service. Come and help make this one of the very best evening services. You will hear good music and a good sermon.

The "Kiora" reading class will meet Tuesday evening at 7. Take advantage of this hour and hear one of the most remarkable missionaries among the Kiora Indians.

The ordinance of baptism will be administered at the close of the Wednesday evening service.

Engineer's Brain Foils Train Looters

Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 4.—Two posers today are pursuing the bandits who last night attempted to hold up a southbound passenger train on the Iron Mountain railroad near Malvern, Arkansas.

The holdup was foiled through the coolness of Theodore P. Howard, the engineer, and so quickly were officers and citizens on the trail of the would-be robbers that a battle was fought with them less than three hours later. Sheriff J. Stanley, of Malvern, was wounded in the foot.

Two men climbed on the "Blind baggage" into the engine cab and had ordered Engineer Howard to stop the train, when he saw a camp fire. The engineer took his time bringing the train to a halt and the robbers were carried a mile beyond the place where their confederates were supposed to be waiting.

Seeing that they were outwitted, the men leaped from the train and escaped.

TAX UNMARRIED TO PAY FOR WAR

Berlin, Dec. 4.—The city of Oschatz in Saxony is the first German municipality to impose an extra tax upon the unmarried.

Two or three other German towns have a tax on bachelors, but the new Oschatz law applies alike to male and female. Only Catholic priests are exempt. Other unmarried persons above 21 must pay above their regular municipal tax: On incomes from 1,800 to 2,400 marks yearly, five per cent; 2,400 to 4,000 marks, ten per cent; 4,000 to 6,300 marks, fifteen per cent; 6,300 to 10,000 marks, twenty per cent and above 10,000 marks, twenty-five per cent.

WAR GOOD THING FOR TURKISH WOMEN

Berlin, Dec. 4.—Turkey's participation in the war is bringing a greater degree of freedom to the Turkish women. The Turkish ministry of posts, telegraphs and telephones announces that women are to be employed in the money-order departments of the post offices. They must be not less than seventeen years old and unmarried. The pay is about $16 monthly.

Damascus reports the opening of a girl's school.

London Is Facing Labor Shortage

London, Dec. 4.—Owing to active recruiting, the shortage of men in the labor market has become more acute and has greatly increased the demand for women and young girls as substitutes. Practically everyone capable of working, says the Board of Trade Labor Gazette, has an opportunity of being employed, and it is evident that still larger numbers of women and girls supply in engineering and shipbuilding and in the glass, chemical, building and metal trades, and with regard to women, the demand for textile workers is still unmet.

Compared with October 1914, there was a general improvement, especially marked in industries engaged in supplying the requirements of the forces.

War bonuses and increases in wages taking effect in October, affecting 150,000 working people, amounted to about $115,000 a week.

There is a general security of employment, and the demand for work people is still greatly in excess of the supply in engineering and shipbuilding and in the glass, chemical, building and metal trades, and with regard to women, the demand for textile workers is still unmet.

NOT FIGHTING FORCE BUT GROUPS OF GHOSTS WHICH ARRIVED TO RELIEVE MONASTIR

Milan, Dec. 4.—(Via London) A correspondent of the Corriere della Sera who departed from Monastir on the last train which went to that city telegraphs that 4,000 Serbian troops, sent to assist Col. Vassitch, the Serbian commander, were too exhausted on their arrival to be of value. They had marched for seventeen days over the rough Albanian roads, struggling on through snow or rains. Sometimes they went forty-eight hours without food.

"It was not a fighting force, but groups of ghosts, which entered Monastir." The correspondent says, "although the men were fit only for the hospital they went immediately to cover the general retirement of the army."

Clock Made of Glass. A clock constructed throughout of glass is the result of six years' work on the part of a Bavarian glass polisher. The plates and pillars which form the framework are of glass and are bolted together with glass screws. The dial plate, hands, shafts and cogwheels are of glass, and glass wedges and pins are used for fastening the various parts of the running gear together. Like the clock itself, the key by which it is wound is of glass. The construction of the remarkable timepiece was a matter of infinite pains. Some of the parts had to be made as many as forty times before a clock that would go could be produced.

WILSON'S NAME IS ON FILE IN NEBRASKA FOR DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR PRESIDENT

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 4.—The name of President Woodrow Wilson as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination is in file here today with the secretary of state, ready to be placed in the Nebraska primary ballot in 1916. The petition which was filed yesterday was signed by local Democrats, among them P. L. Hall, Democratic National Committeeman from Nebraska.

Charles Bryan, mayor of Lincoln, and brother of W. J. Bryan, former secretary of state, refused to sign the Wilson petition. He said if the petitioners would wait until he communicated with Mr. Wilson, he might sign.

The Exception. "I don't believe in borrowing trouble."

"Neither do I. Still, if I meet a man who is troubled with too much money, I'm always willing to help him out."

NEVER DESPAIR. Wise men never wait and wait their hour. But cheerfully seek how to redress their harms.

What though the mast be now blown overboard. The cable broke, the holding anchor lost. And half our sailors swallowed in the flood— Yet lives our pilot still.

down, leaving scores to weep over the irreparable loss. He was a young man with the promise of a bright and glorious future; and everything that could be done was done for his recovery; but alas! he had to bow to a "Higher Power"; and surrendered to the Angel of Death; all that made life bright and beautiful. He was laid to rest in the lovely cemetery at Mues's Mills, to await the judgment morning.

His father, mother, brothers and one sister survive him. We would say to them: "Sorrow not, but trust in the One who is able to deliver you in the hour of affliction and sorrow; and Who has promised never to forsake us or leave us alone. The home has lost a bright and shining light; the community a worthy and useful young man; but it may be that their earthly loss is Heaven's gain, for upon the cross the Saviour died to redeem such as he.

URGES AMERICA TO TAKE INITIATIVE FOR WORLD PEACE

Baron Shibusawa.

World peace secured by a six-power alliance, which shall include the United States, Japan, Great Britain, France, Russia and Italy, is the dream of Baron El-ichi Shibusawa, recognized as the leading financier of Japan, who is in this country on a pleasure trip. The baron, who is often referred to as the "E. Morgan of Japan," urges this nation to take the initiative to bring about negotiations tending to settle the European war.

The revival meeting at Ramey's Chapel continues to grow in interest and attendance, and Brother Stoller is preaching some fine sermons.

SCIOTO INSTITUTE HAS FINE MEETING

Attendance at the Scioto Institute at Harrisonville at the second day's session today was a little better than Friday, although not up to former years, owing to the bad conditions of the roads.

The program this year was of unusual merit, all three speakers making an excellent impression. Frank Blackford injects a brand of humor into his addresses which helps materially to emphasize the main features of his addresses, which are full of profit to his hearers.

Another feature of the first day's session was the two talks by Mrs. Ida A. Durbin, whose remarks were interesting not only to the women in her audience, but also to the men. She suggested a number of little labor saving devices and hints in preparing meals that can be carried out with little effort. In her speech Friday afternoon, she also handed out wholesome advice to the young ladies of the community, and warned them about answering advertisements for employment in the larger cities without making a thorough investigation. Practical talks on farming are given by H. D. Bowsher, the other instructor of the institute, who is just as well versed in one department of farm life as another.

This morning's session was opened by devotional services by Prof. Ramey, and was followed by an address on "Soil Problems," by Frank Blackford. H. D. Bowsher talked on the subject, "Why the Drafter Should Displace the Common Horse."

Two addresses are scheduled for this afternoon, "The Farmer's Garden and Orchard," by Frank Blackford, and "Systematic and Thorough Tile Drainage," by H. D. Bowsher. Election of officers will precede the afternoon adjournment.

The Scioto Institute opened up at 10 o'clock Friday morning in the M. E. church at Harrisonville with a fine attendance and will continue for two days. The speakers are Prof. Ramey, Frank Blackford, Mrs. Ida A. Durbin and H. D. Bowsher.

Officers of the Institute are T. J. Bennett, president; C. C. Bennett, secretary, and N. C. Titus, Addie Fullerton and W. E. Correll, executive committee.

The program at the morning session was as follows: "Diversified Specialized Farming," by Prof. Ramey; "Our State Agricultural Institutions," by Frank Blackford; "Preparing the Farm Meals," by Mrs. Durbin, and "Corn Methods by Which My Yield Per Acre Has Doubled," by H. D. Bowsher.

The afternoon session opened at 1 o'clock, and included the following program: "The Social Side of Farm Life," by Frank Blackford; "Labor Saving Devices for the Farmer's Wife," by Mrs. Durbin; "Hogs as Labor Savers and Money Makers," by H. D. Bowsher.

Last evening's session which began at 7 o'clock, was featured by addresses by Frank Blackford and H. D. Bowsher.

Society

One of the happiest and most pleasant social events of the season was the social whirl given at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Alderman, 1831 Oakland avenue, Friday evening. The occasion will long be remembered by those who were present, for the entertainment provided by the hostess was perfect and the evening passed away all too quickly. Mrs. Charles Racey was the winner at the guessing contest and was the recipient of a beautiful glass dish. Mr. Racey was given the consolation prize. Delectable refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Guffey, Mr. and Mrs. William Beatty, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Howland, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams and son, Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Cheyney and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Racey and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Young, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Beck, Mrs. F. W. Sheridan, Miss Nanny Foley, Mr. George Tatum.

The good women of Section Three of the First Christian church, were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Hayden McCarty, 1117 Northtenth street, Friday afternoon. It was one of the most delightful occasions in the history of the section, the hostess fairly surpassing herself in the manner of entertainment. The attendance was not quite up to expectations, but what was lacking in numbers was made up in enthusiasm. Mrs. McCarty provided a warm lunch for her guests, bringing the afternoon to a most happy conclusion.

Gen. de Bruijn, who will sing a solo at the Elk Memorial exercises Sunday afternoon, arrived in the city Saturday and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Heer.

Mrs. Rosalia Ford, of Elwood, Ind., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Roy Broadwater, of this city.

Mrs. P. J. Klingman will return to Detroit Tuesday after a delightful visit to Portsmouth relatives and friends.

Mrs. Mac Williams, of Hillsboro, is the guest of Mrs. George Thornton of Seventh street.

Miss Evelyn Reed, who attends school at Highland Hall, Holliston, Pa., will arrive home December 18th, for her Christmas vacation.

Miss Lena Hauck will arrive home December 10th from Lasell Seminary, Andover, Mass., for the holiday vacation. Mrs. Hauck will go to Columbus to meet her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Altman, who have been seriously ill, are able to be up and are improving each day.

Edward T. Reed will arrive home tonight after a business trip in the East.

LADIES

The Ladies Aid Society of the Fourth Street Methodist church met in regular monthly session at the home of Mrs. Charles Winter, on Fifth street, who was assisted by her sister, Miss Mary Helt and Mrs. George Carroll. Thirty was the number present, including Mrs. Josephine Klingman, Jr., of Grand Rapids, Mich., guest of Mrs. Clara Bartholm. At the end of the business the usual refreshments were served.

Mr. W. S. Walker has called a meeting of the New Century Club for Friday evening at 7 o'clock at 1831 on Fifth street, to discuss the Chautauqua here next year. The meeting is very important. All members are urged to attend.

MRS. FLOYD FULLER, Sec'y.

The Lookout Girls of Bigelow School held an enjoyable party last evening at the home of Mrs. Joseph Fought, on Oakland avenue. After the business a pleasant time was included in the program, after which dainty refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Weyand, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd, Miss Mrs. Floyd Wells, Misses Sarah Maule, Katherine Roush, Edna Maule, Florence Taylor and Mrs. Clark.

Miss Nell Turkey today invited a group of young women to a party which will be held next Friday afternoon for the pleasure of Miss Elizabeth Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. White have moved from Hutchins street to Timbuctoo avenue and Twenty-first street. The house they occupied on next Thursday afternoon at the Hutchins street was purchased by Mrs. Davis Walker, on New Street. Mr. Clark, who moved into it, Fifth street.

The regular meeting of the U. S. Ladies Aid Society was held at the home of Mrs. Alan Herder, on Ninth street.

The Merry Twelve Club will meet next Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Davis Walker, on New Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar F. Draper's guests, Miss Eleanor Wright, of Glendale, and Miss Ruth Draper, of Norwood, have come to their homes after a delightful two weeks' visit. Miss Ruth Draper sang a beautiful solo last Sunday morning at the Second Presbyterian church.

Mrs. J. L. Watkins received a letter today from her son, J. L. Watkins, Jr., telling of meeting Miss Dorothy Hutchins in Los Angeles, Cal., and was to attend a party with her that evening. Dorothy Hutchins is the daughter of the late Dudley B. Hutchins, formerly of Portsmouth.

The Clio Club will meet next Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Marcia Storck.

The Second Street Whist Club meets next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. D. York.

Arthur Carey entertained the G. M. T. Club last evening at his home on Waller street, where the young girl friends were the guests of the occasion. The evening was spent in music and dancing, after which refreshments were served.

Miss Marie Bauer came home this morning after spending two months among friends in the East.

C. M. Weyand, secretary of the Scioto County Dry Federation will fill the pulpit of the Lucasville M. E. church Sunday evening. Immediately after the services the dry workers of Valley township will effect an organization.

Nearly All The Coaches Of Leading
Teams In Harness For 20 Years

By FIELDING H. YOST

(Coach Yost has had charge of college football teams for a long time, and it was suggested to him that he could tell some interesting things of coaches and coaching. The following article is the result of the suggestion.—Editor.)

Copyright 1915 by the Central Press Association.

It never occurred to me how long I had been coaching football teams until someone asked me about a week or two ago. When I counted up the time, I found that nineteen years have passed since I started.

It may seem that I am getting to the something of a veteran, but as a matter of fact, many of the leading college coaches were in the harness when I started, and had been for some time.

Stagg, Dr. Williams, Warner and others who are still handling big university teams were on the job ahead of me. Even the so-called younger coaches have been at work for ten or twelve years.

Back in 1897 I began coaching at Ohio Wesleyan. I wanted to see the country and become familiar with the game as played in all sections, so I worked west. In 1898 I went to Nebraska, and to Kansas in 1899, going on to Stanford in 1900. In 1901 I moved to Michigan, and have been there ever since.

I remember "Pop" Warner, an old Cornell man, was in harness when I started. He was with North Carolina then, and went later to Cornell and Carleton. Now he is at the University of Pittsburgh.

Then there is Dr. Williams, who has been at Minnesota for sixteen years, and who has developed many strong teams. He was coaching Penn Charter high school at Philadelphia when I started.

You might call Stagg of Chicago the dean of the coaches. He has been holding his present job for twenty-five years, and looks good for another twenty-five.

Percy Haughton, who made such a big success of this year's Harvard team, broke in about the same time I did. As I remember, he was coaching Cornell then.

Brooke, "Hy" Dickson, and Wharton, old Penn men, also have been in the game about twenty years. They have all worked on the Pennsy team this year.

Sharpe, Cornell coach, and McGugin at Vanderbilt have been going about 42 years. "Speedy" Rush, now at Princeton, has been in the game about that long.

Benny Owens, who has made a winner of Oklahoma, is my oldest pupil now in the coaching business. He was quarterback at Kansas. He has been coaching for seventeen years, fourteen of them at Oklahoma.

Two other coaches who are getting to be veterans are Donahue of Auburn and Heisman of Georgia Tech. They have had a lot of victories to their credit.

The game is much more interesting now, from a spectator's standpoint, than it was when I began. That is on account of the open game, and the doing away with mass play. While there is plenty of line plunging today, it is in the nature of driving or deception in attack, rather than mass play. The players know more of the science of the game now. There is more skill and headwork than in the old days.

Won One Game

Pitcher McCall, who was sold to the Cleveland Spiders by the Portsmouth management failed to help his team very much after joining Spider regalia. A. A. pitching reports available Saturday showed that McCall won only one game and lost 11.

BERTRAM IS HIGH WITH 235

Forest Bertram now holds the high score in bowling at the Crystal Palace Alleys for the week with 235, beating the score of Frank W. Sheridan, 224 today. E. A. Vandyeke is in the lead in duck pins with 145.

Football Work Is Completed;
Mr. Marting Back At Studies

Now that Yale has reflected soberly over its most disastrous football season and has put away its football regalia rather tearfully, H. A. Marting, a Portsmouth boy, who had charge of this year's Yale freshmen material has returned to his law studies at the Columbia University in New York.

Mr. Marting, who was one of the most versatile centers Old Eli has ever turned out did all he could to turn out a winner at Yale this year. He had charge of the players who will be heard from next year and according to Mr. Marting the freshmen material this year was strictly A No. 1. His team of freshmen frequently ran rough shod over the varsity eleven and this, of course, greatly pleased Mr. Marting, whose work of handling the first year students was praised by Yale students and Old Eli's faculty.

Acquainted with every angle of the game Mr. Marting no doubt indulged the rudiments of the game into a gang of willing workers, whose work next year may result in their college regaining ground it has lost in a football way the past two seasons.

Just before the Yale-Harvard game Ralph Marting received a letter from H. A. Marting in which he said: "Harvard may beat us, but there will be no score of 30 to 0."

All of which recalls to mind that the Yale-Harvard score was 41 to 0. But then it must be admitted that Mr. Marting showed the true Yale spirit. He hardly looked for victory, but expected to get his glory out of a small score.

Friday, Ivory Knobs vs. Spiders, alleys 4 and 5.

With shouts and hurrahs, a small sample of which will generally hear at a football game, four teams of the Masonic Bowling League rolled with much excitement and a small amount of sadness at the Play House alleys Friday night, and when the fog had lifted it was seen that the Giant Killers had taken three from Floyd Fuller's Submarines, while the Wurstler Rexalls had hammered the Nodler Spiders two out of three. All in all it was one large evening, there being plenty of spectators on the side lines to lend aid and encouragement to the pin shooters many of whom were off their feet and many of whom rolled surprisingly good games.

The Giants had little if any difficulty with their opponents, the Submarines, rightly and properly named because they are still down. Captain Fuller and his band of marksmen tried valiantly but the Giants kept out of their range and when the time came sent several broad sides that at least disarranged the wireless system, although they did not phase the talking proficiency of Captain Fuller, who went down with his face toward the enemy, grinning like vengeance, which means there'll come a time.

Out on alleys 4 and 5 Captain Wurstler spread the necessary rosin and his team held their feet until they captured two games. The Spiders, their worthy opponents, rolled a surprisingly large total in the sandwich game, Captain Nodler gathering 203 for his effort, giving him the high score for this season. That 203 was the only thing that the Spider captain took home with him, for he had counted on taking all three. However a little sugar in the shape of his big game made the medicine administered by Dr. Wurstler taste like fudge, sprinkled with grated coconut—ever last it?

Taking everything into consideration the boys had one large evening and expect to come back next week for more of the same stuff. The performance of two of the Giants is well worthy of comment. Reference is made to Sir Edward Campbell and Frank Johnson Baker, the Sleepless Shoeman. These two worthies were right there at the start and finish. Campbell shot carefully and at most times quite accurately. Baker did likewise and gives promise of holding up his end and shouldering part of the load. It looks as though the Giants would be fully as strong as last year when they romped home with the flag. The scores:

Billy Hart wants to become an umpire in the National League. There must be some truth in the report that J. Evers is going to the Reds.

Pitts has challenged Cornell but then it only costs the price of a telegram for Pitt to challenge Cornell. Besides Pitt has won too many football games for Cornell to pay any attention to the bar-barous things.

The reason Harvard gridgers weren't numbered was to keep opponents from distinguishing the Crimson players. But Yale didn't have much trouble identifying Mahan.

P. S.—Not that they got very close to him!

Yale has elected a football captain, but that seems a poor way to reward Black for his good work.

Fred Hunter May
Boss Wheeling Club

According to information given out in Wheeling Fred Hunter is likely to be named as the new manager of the Wheeling Stogies.
The Wheeling club is without a pilot, and no better selection, we believe, could be made than Hunter. The latter was with Ft. Worth last season and had a great year in the field and at the bat. Hunter is spending the off season in Columbus, where he is interested in a pool room.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The Carlisle team will not be a contender in future intercollegiate football games as a result of a decision by Secretary Lane, after a conference with Commissioner Sells of the Indian service and Superintendent Lipps of the Carlisle Indian school.
Secretary Lane added that in the future football must be subordinated to the educational features of the school.

Cleveland, Dec. 4.—It was admitted today by George P. Steele, head of the bankers committee which is handling the affairs of C. W. Somers, owner of the American League baseball club here and by Somers, that Dan D. "We have asked Johnson to come to Cleveland to talk over the situation," Steele said today.

PROFESSIONAL RULE WILL BE CONSIDERED

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Members of the faculty committee of the "Big Nine" are to meet here today to consider among other questions, the rule which prohibits athletes in playing in professional baseball during summer vacations. Final settlement of the existing rule is expected, and it is predicted that it will be retained. One reason advanced for repeal of the restriction is that it leads athletes to deny their participation after playing summer baseball in order to remain eligible for college athletes.

Basket Ball Schedule Has Been Adopted By Boy Scouts

The Boy Scout Basketball League for 1915-16 will open on Monday following Christmas, Dec. 7. The league will get a big start with a big gymnasium program, and the following games will be played at this meet, which will constitute the opening games: East End vs. Eagles; West End vs. Tigers. We give below the schedule in full:

Dec. 25—East End vs. Eagles; Tigers vs. West End.
Jan. 1—East End vs. Tigers; West End vs. Eagles.
Jan. 8—East End vs. West End; Tigers vs. Eagles.
Jan. 15—East End vs. Eagles; West End vs. Tigers.
Jan. 22—East End vs. Tigers; West End vs. Eagles.
Jan. 29—East End vs. West End; Tigers vs. Eagles.
Feb. 5—East End vs. Eagles; West End vs. Tigers.
Feb. 12—Anniversary games, East End vs. Tigers; West End vs. Eagles.
Feb. 19—East End vs. West End; Tigers vs. Eagles.
Feb. 26—East End vs. Eagles; West End vs. Tigers.
March 5—East End vs. West End; Tigers vs. Eagles.
The league will last eleven weeks and many good games are looked for as the league is much faster this season than it was last, and the teams are more evenly matched, which has been proven by the pre-season games.

Herzog Outplayed
Brilliant Bancroft

Bancroft, the wonderful young shortstop of the Philadelphia Athletics, was outplayed throughout the last game of the National League season by Herzog, who happened to play at shortstop. Exactly the same number of games makes the young player look like second-hand goods less in the opinion of the Cincinnati Reds. Look at the official returns and see:
Players: Herzog, P. A. E. P. H. Herzog 154 261 339 54 54 Bancroft 153 260 339 54 54
The figures show that Herzog didn't get his better average by doing a dodging the last chances, but that he actually went after more bases than Bancroft, and got them. It is true that Herzog didn't make as many errors as Bancroft, but his work was superior to that of the younger player in every possible manner.

Local Elks Will Honor The Memory Of Dead On Sunday; Public Is Invited To Services

It is fittingly appropriate that the formal exercises to be held by the Portsmouth Lodge of Elks in the new home in the Play House building will be the annual memorial service in memory of the departed brothers of the order on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock.

An impressive service has been arranged by the committee, the members of which made a special effort to offer an unusually appropriate speaking and musical program.

Close personal friends of the three members who departed this life during the past year will deliver eulogies on their lives and works, while the city's best musical talent will be heard in vocal and instrumental selections.

The ritualistic service will be in charge of Exalted Ruler Stanley McCall and the other officers of the lodge.

The committee in charge of the service is composed of John Jones, William S. Pilsley and William Branch. The complete program is as follows:

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Bread Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Bread Tea," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieves congestion. Also loosens the bronchi, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB RHEUMATISM FROM STIFF, ACHING JOINTS

Rub Soreness from joints and muscles with a small trial bottle of old St. Jacobs Oil.

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism.

It's pain only, not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia, lumber up! Get a 25 cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

Had Boasted It Would Take 14 Men To Overpower Him, But He Changed His Mind.

Modern Sampson Tamed

A young man giving the name of Kin Brown, was fined $10 and costs in the mayor's court Friday evening for disorderly conduct.

Brown, according to the evidence, while under the influence of liquor, went to the home of Mrs. Adams, of No. 2029 Fifth street, a few night ago and kicked over a lamp and some vases. When threatened with arrest he is said to have boasted that he was a regular Sampson and it would take 14 men to overpower him, but he changed his mind and came in very meekly. He has been keeping company with a Miss

Parker, who boarded at the Adams home. Brown made no denial of the statements against him.

Mrs. Adams also took the opportunity for complaining to the mayor that her thirteen-year-old daughter had become a regular attendant at the Pentecostal church.

Wm. Hyland Honored By The W. of W.

William Hyland, clerk at the Wolf Clothing Company, was named as the new head of River City Camp No. 29, Woodmen of the World, at the annual election Friday evening. C. C. Milstead, who has served as clerk for years, refused to accept another year, and O. H. Lewis was named in his stead. The full roster of the officials is: Past Counsellor, Commander, Roy McElhenny; councillor, commander, William Hyland; adviser, lieutenant, Harry Hyland; banker, W. H. Clarke; clerk, O. H. Lewis; escort, J. E. Williams; watchman, C. C. Milstead; sentry, Henry Toll; manager, George Clifford.

Camp physicians, Dr. A. L. Test, Dr. O. D. Tarje, J. W. Fitch, O. D. Micklethwait and George W. Martin.

One candidate, Clyde Baskette, was initiated at last night's meeting, and five applications were received.

The twentieth anniversary of the founding of the order will be observed with appropriate ceremonies on the night of Friday, December 17th. The invitations have been extended to some of the high officials of the order to be present. The committee is composed of George W. Clifford, William Hyland, Roy McElhenny, Jacob Kah and C. C. Milstead.

TO MAKE ANNUAL COLLECTION

Mayor Adam Frick has granted the Salvation Army permission to again employ their usual method of carrying on Christmas collections with kettles on tripods. The only condition is that there be no unusual interference with pedestrian traffic.

$5,000 DRUNK

Officers Buras and Osborn are priding themselves on having arrested a "$5,000" drunk at the N. & W. depot Friday evening. The unfortunate registered as H. T. Bush and gave Sciotoville as his home. When searched at police headquarters he had $15.20 cash in his pockets and a local bank book showing he had $5,000 on deposit.

"MAYORALTY TIE" CONTEST ENDED

Dr. Jos. Gill is in receipt of a letter from his brother, J. Gill, Jr., of St. Bernard, O., telling of the big mayoralty contest there, having just been settled. Henry Nailor was declared mayor in Judge Warner's court Thursday. At the November election the race for mayor resulted in a tie between Nailor and Michaels. It was decided to toss a coin and Nailor won. Michaels later went into court in hopes of winning the office.

Your Health

Edited by John H. Landis, M. D., Health Officer of Cincinnati

On January first, 1916, a very important State Board of Health regulation becomes effective in Ohio. It covers the sale of ice cream, sodas and soda fountain sundries.

This regulation presents another opportunity for the public to aid in the great work now being done in this country to prevent the spread of communicable diseases. These regulations, wherever enforced, will eliminate one method of transmission that is responsible for a great deal of sickness and for numerous deaths.

The mouth to mouth transmission of the cause of diphtheria, scarlet fever, tuberculosis, etc., can be accomplished as easily by the use of cups, spoons etc., as it can in the act of kissing. Ice cream and soda water dealers have an opportunity to secure a bit of advertising that will more than cover the cost of meeting the requirements.

Public patronage is as responsible to neatness, cleanliness and safety as "the needle to the pole," and right here is where the public should use its limitless power to make or break dealers handling ice cream and sodas.

If your dealer meets the requirements, pass the word along to your neighbors; if he does not, pass the word along just the same, for he has no more moral right to subject you to the dangerous communicable diseases than he has to serve you with a solution of some dangerous vegetable or metallic poison, when you order soda water or ice cream. The United States Public Health Service recently carried out a series of tests in Detroit which showed that about one per cent of those examined were carrying diphtheria bacilli in their throats. This will give the general public some idea of the danger confronting those using unsanitized eating or drinking utensils, whether they be in public places or in the home. Following are the orders and regulations adopted by the State Board of Health:

"Rule 1. In order that the sale of ice cream, sodas and soda fountain sundries may be conducted under sanitary conditions the operators of ice cream parlors and soda fountains are hereby instructed that all such goods shall be dispensed only in sterile containers. To this end it is ordered that all soda fountains and ice cream parlors, be provided with facilities for the sterilization of dippers, glasses, spoons, serving dishes and any other vessel or utensil coming in contact with ice cream, sodas or soda fountain sundries.

"Rule 2. Facilities for the sterilization of dippers, glasses, spoons, serving dishes or any other vessel or utensil coming in contact with ice cream, sodas or soda fountain sundries shall include: (a) An adequate supply of hot and cold water of a quality suitable for drinking purposes. (b) Suitable arrangements for supplying boiling water or live steam. (c) An adequate supply of clean towels for drying glasses, dishes, etc. (d) Suitable provision for taking care of sterile glasses, dishes, etc., so as to keep same clean until wanted for use.

"Rule 3. All dishes and utensils, after each individual service, shall be washed by (a) rinsing in cold water, (b) then thorough washing in hot water with soap or suitable cleansing powder, (c) then exposing to live steam or boiling water for a period of three to five minutes (d) then rinsing in clean cold water and draining or wiping with a clean towel.

In lieu of the above requirements or where it is found impossible or inexpedient to use live steam or boiling water, paper cups or paper tumblers with individual spoons will be allowed

WHAT IS URIC ACID?

The Cause of Backache, Rheumatism, Gravel and Sudden Death.

Ever since the discovery of uric acid in the blood by Scheele, in 1773, and the bad effect it had upon the body, scientists and physicians have striven to rid the tissues and the blood of this poison. Because of its overabundance in the system it causes backache, pains here and there, rheumatism, gout, gravel, neuralgia and sciatica. It was Dr. Pierce who discovered a new agent, called "Anuric," which will throw out and completely eradicate this uric acid from the system. "Anuric" is 37 times more potent than lithia, and consequently you need no longer fear muscular or articular rheumatism or gout, or many other diseases which are dependent on an accumulation of uric acid within the body. Send to Dr. Pierce of the Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., for a pamphlet on "Anuric," and send 10 cents for a large trial package of "Anuric" Tablets.

If you feel that tired, worn-out feeling, backache, neuralgia, or if your sleep is disturbed by too frequent urination, go to your best store and ask for Doctor Pierce's Anuric Tablets. Doctor Pierce's reputation is back of this medicine and you know that his "Pleasant Pellets" for the liver and his "Favorite Prescription" for the kidneys of men have had a splendid reputation for the past fifty years.

The greatest enemy of your teeth

When scientists recently discovered the cause of that dread disease, pyorrhea, they discovered the greatest enemy of your teeth. Why guess? Because the germ that causes this disease inhabits every human mouth!

Your dentist will tell you that half of all the permanent teeth lost are lost from this disease. This is because people have not realized before that everyone should take precautions against this enemy. You can start now to ward off its constant attack and escape the terrible results of this disease by using the proper corrective and preventive treatment in your daily toilet.

To meet the need for this treatment and to enable everyone to take precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco contains the best corrective and preventive for pyorrhea known to dental science. Used daily it will successfully protect your teeth from this disease. Senreco also contains the best harmless agent for keeping the teeth clean and white. It has a refreshing flavor and leaves a wholesomely clean, cool and pleasant taste in the mouth.

Start the Senreco treatment tonight—full details in the folder wrapped around every tube. Symptoms described. A 25-cent oz. tube is sufficient for six or eight weeks of the pyorrhea treatment. Get Senreco at your drugists today, or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Senreco Union Central Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Own an Estate Triple Effect and "Fresh Air" Baking Range

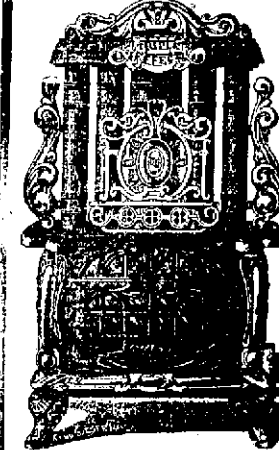

The Stoves That Stay In The Family!

Estate Triple Effect Gas Heaters

The original and only genuine "Triple Effect." The best known, most successful but withal the most widely imitated natural gas heater in the world.

It works like a furnace because it is built like one. Heats not only by radiation and convection but by powerful hot air circulation as well. Heats all the rooms of an average size home up stairs and down stairs just as effectively as a furnace and at approximately half the fuel cost. Made in three sizes.

Come in and inspect them.

The Estate Patented Ventilated Bake Oven The Gas Range That Bakes With Fresh Air

You sleep, work and eat where there is fresh air; the various places where your food is kept are well ventilated—why should not your food be baked or roasted in a continuous current of heated, sterilized fresh air?

The scientific construction of the Estate Patented Bake Oven makes fresh air baking possible.

Fresh air is taken from outside the stove. On its way to the oven, this air absorbs and is sterilized by the intense heat radiating from the oven plate-heat which is wasted in other gas range construction.

This air never comes in contact with the gas flames. When it passes into the oven, it circulates evenly and uniformly throughout the oven—top, bottom and sides, and finally leaves the oven through the holes in the top oven plate. This is fresh air baking.

See our display and inspect these stoves.

Health and Happiness Depend Upon Your Liver

That sluggish liver with its sluggish flow of bile is what makes the world look so dark at times. Dr. King's New Life Pills go straight to the root of the difficulty by waking up the action of the liver and increasing the bile. Dr. King's New Life Pills cause the bowels to act more freely and drive away those "moody days" 25c. a bottle.

Frederick Perry in "The Family Stain" at the Columbia Monday

Frederick Perry, who plays the leading part in "The Family Stain," the latest William Fox feature, is one of the most distinguished actors of the present day. He was for many years a Broadway favorite, and among many big hits of his career his wonderful work in "The Cover." Mr. Perry made his debut in motion pictures with William Fox. His most notable success thus far is his work in "Dr. Rameau." Mr. Perry is one of the most conscientious and forceful workers on the screen today. Those who have followed his career are more than pleased and delighted with the manner in which he has given himself to work in the pictures. Those who have seen and enjoyed "Dr. Rameau" will be even more pleased with "The Family Stain" which also was directed by William S. Davis.

"Poe Reincarnated" Seen in Essanay's Artistic Masterpiece
— "The Raven"

Henry B. Walthall, living image of America's greatest poet, reenacts latter's tragic life in most intensely fascinating photograph of the year.

Warda Howard, great emotional actress, plays opposite in this soul-stirring drama.

"And the raven, never flitting, still is sitting, still is sitting
On the pallid bust of Pallas, just above my chamber door;
And the eves have all the seeming of a demon's that is dreaming,
And the lamp-light o'er him streaming through his shadow on the floor,
And my soul from out that shadow that lies floating on the floor Shall be lifted evermore!"
—From "The Raven," by Edgar Allan Poe.

Thus Edgar Allan Poe, back in the early days of the last century, wrote and, in the end, gave to the world a poem which since has won for him recognition as America's greatest poet.

Today, almost a century since Poe wrote his remarkable poem, Essanay has succeeded in accomplishing the difficult task of reenacting Poe. Essanay has found Poe's parallel not his double, in looks as well as temperament, in the person of its leading actor, Henry B. Walthall, called "the Poe of the screen," and considered the living image of the great poet.

No Essanay now presents to the photography public the most ethereal photographic effects have been included in this Essanay photo play. It is replete with visions which carry out the whole thought and theme of the romance and poem. Angels float in the air, the dead wife of Poe rises from the grave and appears before him as a spirit, the reflection of his sweetheart in a pool of water appears to Poe as a skeleton, and Poe fights a duel with himself. These are only a few of the illusions.

An Attractive Bungalow No. 165

Illustrated here is one of the most popular designs of the John Henry Newsom Co.'s "Homes of Character." It has been built, to our knowledge, by one contractor over 30 times, and has been sold each time before completion.

This plan combines the bungalow style appearance with comforts usually secured only in a larger size house, as it retains all the important features of a well appointed home.

You will notice that the reception hall, living room and dining room open nicely into each other. Still there is plenty of wall space for furniture, and a large open fireplace in front of the living room as an especially attractive feature. The kitchen is also of ample size, is fully equipped, well lighted and ventilated, having a separate cold room provided for refrigerator.

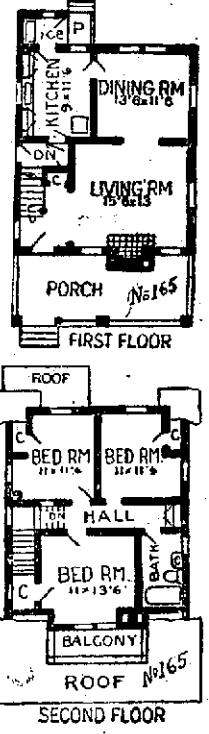

There is a grade entry to basement, and also a closet for coats in the entry hall.

The second floor of this design has three good bedrooms and bath. We have placed at the end of the all a linen closet, and you will also notice from this illustration that there is a very attractive balcony off the main bedroom, extending over the front porch.

No. 165 has been built with hardwood floors, hardwood trim on the first floor, Georgia pine trim in the bedrooms complete not air heating plant, complete plumbing fixture, for $2300. Under more favorable conditions it can be built for $2000, and in no case should the cost exceed $2500.

As in almost all our designs, the basement extends under the main body of the house. In this instance it is 24x26 feet in size.

Our price for plans on this house are especially reasonable, $10.00, or with specifications $2.50 additional. If you wish to see the same floor plan with different elevations, you will find this in our Homes of Character book, under Nos. 164, 167, 169, 223 and 232. Further information without charge can be secured in reference to this home by writing to "John Henry Newsom, Homes of Character Dept., The Times."

Will Democrats Balk the Preparedness Program?

That President Wilson's "preparedness" program is not to have smooth sailing during the coming session of Congress is already evidenced by the attitude of some members of his party.

Indeed, according to the press of the country, the talk within the Democratic party is even more embarrassing to the President than was the defection of Mr. Bryan.

There is a very comprehensive article in THE LITERARY DIGEST for December 4th which gives a summary of American newspaper opinion upon this phase of American politics.

Readers of this number of THE LITERARY DIGEST will also be interested in the very comprehensive description of the pros and cons of the recently enacted Seamen's Law which, in the opinion of many people, will result in driving American ships from the high seas. Opinions from various quarters are cited and the article gives a full perspective of the subject.

Following is a partial list of the topics covered in THE LITERARY DIGEST for December 4th, 1915:

Roumania's Calm Ominous to the Allies

Translations From Newspapers Published in the Warring Countries

Hughes Balks at "Conscription"

Many Comic Cartoons, Instructive Maps, and Interesting Photographs

The value of any periodical lies in the service that it performs. THE LITERARY DIGEST not only teems with entertainment because of the flashlight glimpses of humanity everywhere which it reveals through the news of the day, but in addition to this it saves the hard-pressed business and professional man many hours of valuable time. It would be physically impossible, even were it financially possible, for the average man to read the amazing daily product of the printing press which is circulated throughout the world, and yet there are world-events, of which every live man and woman must keep track. Just here is where "The Digest" performs an indispensable service. A skilled staff of editorial specialists read the principal publications published everywhere and from them glean the facts in the news. This material is then arranged in an easily-grasped style and presented in the pages of THE LITERARY DIGEST for the convenience of its 1,500,000 readers—giving, in the words of Hall Caine, the distinguished English novelist, nothing short of a "non-partisan unprejudiced presentation of the thought of the world."

If you are not a regular reader of THE LITERARY DIGEST you should by all means commence with this week's number.

CORNER OF TABLE COVER

A table cover of heavy colored or white linen will be very effective with this design embroidered in the corners. The scallops should be padded and closely buttonholed. The flowers and leaves are solidly worked with the dots as eyelets and the stems in the outline stitch. The curved figures are closely buttonholed along the edge with the purring brought to the inside. The cross bars are formed of strands of cotton stretched from side to side and buttonholed across without catching through the material which is cut away underneath. Use mercerized cotton No. 15.

DIRECTIONS FOR TRANSFERRING

In taking off these patterns, lay a piece of impression paper upon the material, place the newspaper pattern over this, and with a hard, sharp pencil draw firmly over each line. If the material is sheer it may be laid over the pattern and drawn off with pencil, as the design will show through.

No patterns of these designs are available.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Edward MacDowell's Recital-Lecture given last evening in the new German Evangelical Sunday school auditorium, was lovely. Mrs. MacDowell came here under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical. She has a most attractive personality. After being introduced by Mrs. J. S. Pearce, president of the Ladies' Musical, she gave an informal and interesting talk of the life of her great husband, and told of the MacDowell Memorial Association, Edward MacDowell being one of America's greatest composers, who had many hardships in attaining his great fame, having had great help in his capable wife. Her manner was most attractive to her large audience. She is giving these lecture recitals to aid in the support of the MacDowell Memorial Association of Peterborough, New Hampshire, where Mr. MacDowell stated on a farm in 1896, building his workshop, or studio, in the woods, where there now stands several studios, where art workers can carry on their work, undisturbed, for a dollar a day. There are now twelve studios on the grounds and they hope to soon have sixteen. The country about it is beautiful, there being 450 acres in all. After Mrs. MacDowell's talk she played beautifully her program of her late husband's works. She played them as he had played them. No musician could hear her without being charmed by the lovely quality of touch, her legato, her intelligent use of the pedal and her firm, full, satisfying tone. She knows better how her great husband wanted his music interpreted than anyone else does. After finishing her program she asked if anyone would like to hear her play any other of her husband's compositions, and by request she played "Autumn," which was very beautiful. He has composed so many lovely pieces that it is hard to tell which is the best. Mrs. MacDowell played on a Steinway piano sent up from Cincinnati for her use. The floral decorations of yellow and white chrysanthemums, ferns and ropes of laurel were the artistic work of Florist Heras. The beautiful program follows:

1. Prelude—From op. 10.
2. Scotch Poem—From op. 31.

Far on Scotland's craggy shore

An old gray castle stands,
Braving the fierce North Sea;
And from a rugged casement
There peers a lovely maid.
A woman's, white with age—
She sweeps the harp strings—sadly,
And sings with a mournful strain,
The wind plays through her tresses,
And carries the song again.
—Goethe.

3. Winter—From op. 32.
A widow bird sat mourning for her love
Upon a wintry bough;
The frozen wind crept on above,
The freezing stream below:
There was no leaf upon the forest bare,
No flower upon the ground,
And little motion in the air
Except the mill-wheel's sound.
—Shelley.

4. The Eagle—From op. 32.
He clasps the crag with crooked hands;
Close to the sun in lonely lands,
Ring'd with the azure world, he stands.
The wrinkled sea beneath him crawls;
He watches from his mountain walls,
And like a thunder-bolt he falls.
—Tennyson.

5. To a Wild Rose.
6. From Uncle Remus.
(From Woodland Sketches)
7. Andante from Keltic Sonnets
8. Sea Song.
A merry song a chorus brave,
And yet a sigh, regret
For roses sweet, in woodland haunts
Ah, love can ne'er forget.
9. A. D. 1620.
The yellow setting sun,
Melts the lazy sea of gold
And gilds the swaying galleon
That towards a land of promise
Lunges hugely on.
(From Sea Pieces).

10. To a Water Lily.
11. Will O' the Wisp.
(From Woodland Sketches)
12. Improvisation
13. March Wind.
(From Virtuoso Etudes).

The North End, or what is called a rural credit act, this inquiry would have a good conception of it probably. But the proposition to enact one failed in the last congress. Briefly, the idea of it is government loan of money to farm owners, on low interest and easy installment payments. Of course, until such a law is actually enacted, there is no certainty as to its details. No doubt when such a measure is placed on the statute book a farmer can borrow on it if he is able to comply with its requirements.

Dear Dolly—How can I keep furniture.

ALLAN UPDEGRAFF

WHEN on that pleasant Monday evening in the latter part of May, Mr. James Leonard so allowed his desires to triumph over his judgment as to call on Miss Clara Hildreth, he promised himself faithfully that his stay would be short, very short. Two reasons urged him to this promise. In the first place, he believed that no young business man could afford to devote any but the last evenings in a week to social amenities; in the second place, he had been with Miss Hildreth on the Friday, Saturday, and Sunday evenings preceding his Monday call. Even under the somewhat exceptional circumstances, he felt that four evenings running were too many. Therefore his promise.

But the promise suffered the sad fate of many similar ones that had gone before it. When Miss Hildreth accompanied him to the door of her flat, his watch, if he had cared to look at it, would have shown him that his short call had lasted three hours and some minutes. But he didn't think of the watch at all, and was therefore not prevented from adding a few more minutes. At short intervals he interrupted the silence by saying that he really must be going. Finally, with reluctance as great as if he had been bound for a hansom's nose, he took a hesitating step backward.

"Good-by!" he murmured, holding—precisely: the truth must be told—holding both her hands. "Good-by!"

"Oh, they've turned out all the lights in the hall!" she remarked, as if the fact had suddenly struck her. "Will you be able to find your way?"

"Yes—good-by!" his voice, in spite of its tragic quaver, was firm and determined.

"Good-by!"

"You must be careful!"

"Yes—good-by!" The doleful word was belied directly: he took back the step he had taken backward. A short silence followed.

"Good-by!" he said once more, regaining with difficulty his former distance. "Good-by!"

"Do be careful! The steps are so smooth!"

"Yes—good-by!"

"Good-by!"

"Good—good—by!"

"Good-by!"

He thought of a variation: "Until Thursday!" he murmured. "Until Thursday, June the 2nd!"

The words seemed to make her suddenly bashful. She released her hands and glided, laughing softly, into the apartment. The door shut slowly in Mr. Leonard's face, until only a crack was left.

"Until Thursday!" she whispered, and then it closed entirely. For some desolate seconds Leonard stood blank, as if expecting it to re-open. But the blank panels soon stared him out of countenance.

He turned and made his way unsteadily, as if through a sort of purple-and-gold mist, toward the stairway. His thoughts and emotions were in such a turmoil that he sighed prodigiously and chuckled ecstatically in the same breath. He realized, in a vague devil-may-care sort of way, that he was acting in an irresponsible manner and, upon reaching the deserted Bronx avenue, tried to compose his facial expression. His thoughts utterly refused to be composed.

"If I should happen to meet a policeman," he informed himself, unconsciously speaking aloud, "I'd have the time of my life escaping Ward's Island!"

He turned toward the nearest subway station, intending to start on the hour-long journey to his home in Bensonhurst, Long Island; but he did not feel like going home. All day in his office he had dozed and dreamed over his work. At times he had barely managed to keep himself from going to sleep; for, what with the length of his calls and the long rides home, he had managed to get very little sleep in the past three nights. Now, however, he was unusually wide awake. He felt curiously ethereal and light-hearted, curiously freed from the restraint of his body. It occurred to him that he could do some very remarkable things, if he only tried: such as jumping over the Flatiron, for instance, or flying up to the top of the Metropolitan tower. He had a mental image of himself sitting up there, on the very topmost pinnacle, declaiming Robert Burns to the stars:

"Oh, my love's like a red, red rose That's newly sprung in June!"

He could not remember the rest of the poem, so he repeated the same two lines, waving his arms at the stars in the panel of sky over his head. Anyone seeing him would have had reason to believe him very drunk indeed. As a matter of fact he was drunk, dead drunk; but not with the sort of stuff passed over bars.

"All right!"

"Come, come!" he cautioned himself after his last exhibition of irresponsibility. "The first thing you know you'll be getting light-headed in earnest! Home and your little cot's the place for you!" He quickened his pace in the direction of the subway station, but soon his step lagged. "If I do go home," he argued with himself, "the Lord knows I won't get to sleep before morning!"

The brilliantly lighted entrance of a saloon offered him a suggestion. He paused to consider it.

"I certainly need something to quiet my nerves," he reflected; "perhaps a glass of beer—"

He had entered saloons just three times in his life: once in the capacity of advertising solicitor, in the days before he established his own little agency; twice with customers. The first time he had taken a lemon soda. The second time he had taken a cigar. The third time, when his customer had laughingly but semi-seriously objected to soft drinks and cigars, he had essayed a beer.

The stuff had struck him as intolerably nasty, but he had felt quieted and soothed for several hours after taking it.

"I'll take one glass," he decided, and pushed open the inviting door.

The foaming yellow liquid did not affect him as unfavorably as upon his first acquaintance with it. No, it did seem to quiet his nerves. After a short internal debate with his principles, he ordered another. Even the double portion seemed to have no noticeable effect. He was tempted to take another, but his principles intervened. Disappointed, and somewhat sickened, he left the place and entered the subway station.

By the time the short "owl" train appeared, however, James Leonard was made to realize that, for the first time in his life, he was positively under the influence of liquor. Half the amount of alcohol he had placed in his stomach would have been sufficient to wholly eradicate this joy. In a most contradictory manner he managed to be, at the same time, very happy and very miserable. He left the subway at Twenty-third Street, and started to go to his office. He had been occupying this office less than a week; and he barely saved himself, on his way to it, from entering an old tobacco store, where he had formerly had desk-room. The clock pointed to ten-thirty when, weakened and weary, but still with that remarkable feeling of joyousness pervading him, he entered his own domain. Mr. J. Broughton Boggs, his only solicitor, and Miss Matilda Prout, his new stenographer, looked at him inquiringly as, with a short "Good morning!" he passed them on his way to the hat-room.

"Why, hello, Jimmy!" remarked Mr. Boggs. "Thought you'd got yourself misplaced! Say, you ain't sick, are you? Nor just seen a ghost, nor nothing?"

"No," said Jimmy shortly.

"You look like you'd been puttin' in a night of it," continued Mr. Boggs, with friendly concern. "Been hittin' 'em up a little, eh?"

Leonard's desk stood just in front of Mr. Boggs's, sharing the light from the small office's single outside window. After allowing the manager to look over his morning's correspondence for what seemed to him a suitable length of time, Mr. Boggs arose, rested his arms comfortably on the top of his roll-top desk, and addressed the back of his employer's head:

"I say, Jimmy," he remarked, in a low, soothing tone—for he felt that the manager might be slightly "tiffed" at the recent mention of "hittin' 'em up"—"Mr. Williams, of Williams and Watson, you know, called up on the phone, about an hour or so ago, and said he wants to have that full-page run in the Star and the Call as soon as possible—you know the one I mean, the one they said we could run any time in the latter part of the week?"

He paused with an upward inflection, for the manager seemed not to have heard.

"That one, from Williams," he repeated, "the full-page. They don't want to wait till the latter part of the week, like they said at first. Shall I fix up the copy so's we can run 'er to-morrow?"

Leonard did not answer. He sat very straight in his chair, the angle of the back of his head indicating that he was looking out of the window.

Mr. Boggs coughed apologetically.

"I could fix it up in half an hour," he suggested, becoming more gentle in propo-tion as he felt that the manager was angry. "It ain't much, and Mr. Williams said he wanted to run it right away, as soon—"

He interrupted himself, for the manager was speaking.

"Thursday," Leonard murmured, in a voice so low as to be scarcely audible, "Thursday, June the Second."

Mr. Boggs's eyes and mouth widened abruptly. After a second of stupefied staring, he sank back into his chair, and whistled between his teeth. He knew that it was Jimmy's custom when irritated to adopt a policy of few words and soft speaking, but never anything quite so startlingly soft and abrupt as this.

Mr. Boggs came to the following conclusion:

"The little mamma's boy is sore because o' what I said—when Cawd knows you couldn't get him to look at a glass o' beer to save his innocent soul from the hot place. He ought to know I was only jokin'." Well, if he wants to be sore, let 'im! But why the deuce he wants to hold that ad. over till Thursday, when Williams was so particular—still, it's his own business. Gee, but he's sore! Hope he chokes!"

The "live wire" had intended to consult his manager about several other matters, mostly letters, but Jimmy's attitude made him change his mind. He laid the letters, three of them, on Leonard's desk, and went out to "drum up" business. Incidentally he dropped in on Mr. Williams and explained Leonard's decision. The result of this interview was that he returned to the office shortly after twelve o'clock, with the determination of giving the manager a small but exciting "piece of his mind."

Leonard had gone out to lunch. Miss Prout was working over her typewriter. Mr. Boggs was about to go out for the purpose of refreshing his own large person, when he caught sight of the three letters, which the manager had evidently endorsed and re-placed on his assistant's desk. Mr. Boggs sat down and looked them over.

The first was a communication from a possible customer asking Mr. Boggs for a rebate on some rates which the "live wire" had quoted to him. It was endorsed: "We give no rebates. J. L." The second was from a former customer of Mr. Boggs in Newark, asking Mr. Boggs to call on him the next day, if possible, in order to figure on some contracts. It was endorsed: "O. K. Thursday, June the Second." The "Thursday, June the Second," was very dim, but clearly legible.

"What the—" began Mr. Boggs, and glared at Miss Prout.

"Mr. Boggs," she cautioned him, "I have warned you that I will stand for no profanity."

"I had no intention of profaning, Miss Prout," returned the distressed solicitor. But his big cheeks puffed out, his nose grew red, with the sudden shutting of his expected safety-valve.

"He's crazy!" he declared. "Here I ought to see this fellow to-morrow—it's a dam—dam—dam to my business, Miss Prout!"

"I admire your restraint, Mr. Boggs," returned the stenographer. She was tall, rather thin, and not in her first youth. Jimmy had been influenced, in choosing her, by the thought that he must not give his future wife any ground for jealousy. Any unbiased judge would have declared that he had been eminently successful in his aim.

He did look rather funny when he went out," she added. "He doesn't—of course he never—drinks?"

"Not on your tin-type!" declared Mr. Boggs. "And now I suppose I've got to stand for another cussin'—and lose more good business."

He called up Newark and got his friend on the phone.

"I can't help it!" he returned, after he had given his information and listened to the wife's reply. "Thursday, June the Second," he says, and he's sore, and I don't want to argue with him. Say, old boss, for my sake, don't get uppish now, and give that order to anybody else. Thursday ain't far off." The further conversation assumed such a turn that Mr. Boggs was profuse in his thanks as he hung up the receiver.

"There, I saved that chunk, anyway!" he announced. "It ain't half as big as the other, but it'll help some!"

"You were very diplomatic," said Miss Prout. Mr. Boggs was moved by this thoroughly sensible remark to take a longer look at her than he had allowed himself before. It struck him that she wasn't bad looking; her suitable black-and-white dress attracted the eye without swarming at it. Her brown hair was arranged in a wide roll that made her somewhat thin face look broader. Besides, he reflected, looks weren't everything; as a man got along in years he noticed more and more that a sensible—

"Why don't you show your side of these cases to Mr. Leonard?" she suggested. "He may be bothered or something; perhaps he has a bad headache. I know how hard it is to think when one has a headache. Maybe he's just thoughtless."

Mr. Boggs's opinion of her probity rose by leaps and bounds.

"I believe you exactly right, ma'am, Miss Prout," he said. "I thought he was irritated at me because o' what I said this morning when he came in."

"You were a little too—too—" said Miss Prout.

"Yes, I was," agreed Mr. Boggs. "It's one of my failings, I suppose, to be a little too—too—you know what I mean."

"Oh, perhaps you feel a little too hardy of yourself, Mr. Boggs," the lady assured him.

Mr. Boggs was so impressed by this judgment that if the subject, or the former subject, of their remarks had not entered the office just then, he might have been emboldened to do something very compromising—such as inviting the lady out to lunch, for instance. But Jimmy's appearance effectually put a damper on the conversation.

Miss Prout attacked her typewriter with violence. Mr. Boggs impaled two of the three letters on his desk upon his file and devoted himself to the third.

The third letter was merely a congratulation of Mr. Boggs upon the good results of an "ad." which he had placed for the writer.

Mr. Boggs had wished Leonard to see it, in order that the manager might take notice of his solicitor's and the Agency's success. It required no endorsement. But, to Mr. Boggs's surprise, it contained several. They were written upside down, in a very faint, shaky scrawl. Mr. Boggs reversed the letter and read:

"Dear Sir:—Having been left, by Mr. James Leonard, temporarily in charge of the Leonard Advertising Agency, I beg to inform—to inform you that the delay in preparing your valued order which I spoke to you about this morning was due to a bad—no, not bad, make it grievous; grievous sounds better—was due to a grievous mistake. My enclosure will explain better than any words of mine—make it explain, and apologize better than any words of mine—for our remissness. Trusting that you will at once comprehend, from the card which I inclose, how the Agency may have been—may have been a trifle careless, and beging to solicit a continuance of your valued favors, we remain, Sir, Very truly yours."

Mr. Boggs scratched his head.

"I guess that'll do," he remarked. "Sign 'er, 'The Leonard Advertising Agency,' with a per and a dash, so's I can attach my handsome name, and enclose this card. I might suggest, Miss Prout, also, that you might be interested to read it."

He handed the card and envelope to Miss Prout.

"There's the answer!" he commented, smiling with the general effect of a small inverted rainbow. "Can you blame him? Mr. J. Broughton Boggs can't! No, sir-reel! And me thinkin' he had been hittin' the glorious, too!"

He looked confidingly at Miss Prout, and was moved to further confession:

"I wish I was in his shoes. Yes, by Jinks, old tough reprobate that I am, I'd give a good-sized chunk of my immortal soul to be right in Jimmy Leonard's shoes!"

"O-o-o-o-oh!" exclaimed Miss Prout, with a little scream of delight. "And it's to be—only next Thursday! Think of his keeping a thing like that quiet so well! Thursday—the Second of June—they're going to be married! Isn't it perfectly lovely! June weddings are always so—so—aren't they?"

"Yes," said Mr. Boggs. He was thinking. He thought steadily all the time Miss Prout was writing out his letter. The more he thought the sadder he became. By the time the letter was completed his expression had grown as lugubrious as it had been joyous only a few minutes before.

"Miss Prout," he remarked, fidgeting in his chair, "I say, Miss Prout, that is, you know, if you aren't exactly expected anywhere else for dinner this evening, why, I just thought I'd let you know here's a lonely old feller 'ud be glad to take you out. It would be an honor and a pleasure, I assure you, Miss Prout!"

The elderly stenographer's hands shook so that she allowed the just-finished letter to slip from her grasp and go careening across the floor. Mr. Boggs sprang to restore it.

"Thank you so much!" she said. "Thank you, both for returning the letter—and for the invitation. I shall be delighted to accept!"

"I'll rely on you to keep things straight here. You might write a letter apologizing to Williams. I'm afraid I've rather let things go for the last few days. What I need's a little—sleep! So long, Boggselcin! Good day, Miss Prout!"

He went out, leaving Mr. Boggs holding the square envelope gingerly between a fat forefinger and thumb, as if it might have contained a wasp. While Miss Prout gave up all pretense of work, he drew forth an engraved card and read it. An amused, surprised, delighted, verily benighted expression gradually chased the alarm from his face. He looked up and caught Miss Prout's eyes fixed upon him. He beamed upon her like a very large, rosy Cheshire cat. "Something very nearly resembling a wink contracted the muscles of his right eyelid."

"Mr. Boggs!" murmured the elderly stenographer.

"Miss Prout," he returned, not abating his smile in the least; "will you kindly take a letter?"

Miss Prout, not without a certain business-like primness, prepared her note-book.

"Mr. JOHN WILLIAMS," began the note, "Manager, Williams & Watson," dictated the "live wire."

"Dear Sir:—Having been left, by Mr. James Leonard, temporarily in charge of the Leonard Advertising Agency, I beg to inform—to inform you that the delay in preparing your valued order which I spoke to you about this morning was due to a bad—no, not bad, make it grievous; grievous sounds better—was due to a grievous mistake. WATCH THE TIMES

During the present week, The Times has been giving its readers a foretaste of the kind of a newspaper they are going to get from now on. We have been giving a good paper, but we are going to give a still better one, if possible to do so. Some of our new equipment is here and is being placed in operation, giving us additional facilities for handling the news and advertising on time. More will be added next week.

To our advertisers we can say that we are now prepared to handle their advertising quickly in any size type from Six Point to 36 Point. On complicated Ads. better service is insured by bringing in the copy the day before the Ad. is to run in the paper. At all times, it is our effort to please, and we want to know it, if any one is dissatisfied.

We are completing arrangements for the further improvement of our Saturday issue, which is already considerable of a feature paper. We expect to have it a top notcher in every respect, full of interesting reading matter for over Sunday. It will be a hummer, interesting to the whole family from the grown-ups to the children.

We appreciate the loyalty of our readers. Occasionally some have stopped the paper for a brief time, in the past years, relying on alluring promises that never were fulfilled and they have invariably come back to their first love. They have found that The Times has been delivering the goods day in, day out and has played square. We hope to continue to enjoy the confidence of our readers and we certainly are going to do all in our power to give them the best possible value for their money.

A TWO-FOLD MISSION

In a striking advertisement of the Commercial Building and Loan Company, which appeared in The Times of Saturday and preceded its annual report, the statement was made that while the primary purpose of such an association as it was to aid people to secure their own homes, it had another aim of equal importance and that was to encourage the habit of saving.

We have pondered some over that statement, endeavoring to reach a conclusion as to whether or not the two propositions are really of equal importance, but have not been able to strongly form it. The only thing we were able to clearly fix in our own mind is that no two aims could be more worthy of undertaking and deserving of the best and most intelligent effort to promote them. Home, home ownership, is the surest foundation of society and the most impregnable bulwark of the nation. But, after all, is not saving the broader virtue, does it not include more people within its possible scope? Not to every one is home a need, or even a desirable thing to have in one's ownership, but saving, and thrift, is a quality that all can exercise to benefit. Thrift not only benefits him who practices it, no harm can be done by it to another.

These are, however, but speculations and each may argue for either home or thrift, according to his turn and his personal satisfaction. They lead up, nevertheless to a dominant thought and that is Portsmouth is particularly fortunate in her building associations. They have gone further than being merely safe and successful as monetary matters go; they have been actively, aggressively effective in leading to both home building and the practice of thrift. Yet, it is to be assumed that as many are yet uninformed and unmindful as to their benefits and helpfulness, it is because they take as a rallying the common saying, every little bit added to what you've got makes a little bit more, not regarding that it is a bit of keen philosophy. They do not give sufficient study to that philosophy to get a conviction of the mighty power of addition and interest. On the other hand it is because building associations thoroughly comprehend this power and put it in operation that they become so useful and so potent in the up-building of peoples and communities. They know that if the person, who is twenty today, begins depositing with them only a dollar a week, and keeps on until age incapacitates him from labor, he will have amply sufficient to maintain him in comfort. Should he not live for such a length he will die in the satisfaction that he has made some provision, at least, for those dependent upon him. It is the progressive spirit of the building associations that has made Portsmouth rather exceptional for the number of her home-owners and savers and their good work is bound to go on to still wider effect.

Ah, ha, its coming down to brass tacks, just as we said it would. Republican congressmen and senators, who proclaimed so gaily how they would stand behind Wilson are now saying supporting preparedness doesn't mean voting for what the president may propose.

The fact that the G. O. P. organs tell us Democratic free trade is going to wreck the country may be interesting to them, the fact that the country is enjoying marvelous prosperity is important to all of us.

Now it is claimed the sly Teutons are inspiring all this peace talk, the why and the wherefore of which will appear later.

THE NEW PEACE DOVE

LET THEM STAND PAT

A majority of the state printing commission, composed of Attorney General Turner, Secretary of State Hildebrandt, and Auditor Donahy, has taken a right stand, and let us hope an unyielding one, against profligate expenditure of the state's fund in printing public documents and official reports. Turner and Donahy have refused to permit the printing of 29,000 railroad maps that the legislators voted themselves, and they also laid over a permit to print the roster of Ohio's militia officers and ordered the publication of its monthly bulletin of 120 and 160 pages to not more than 50 pages. else there will be nothing doing in the printing line.

Secretary of State Hildebrandt did not join with the majority in knocking out the considerable hunk of graft the legislators were handing themselves in the shape of a proportionate share in the railroad maps, contending, it is to be supposed that since the legislature had ordered them to be printed there was nothing else to do. Possibly, he may have the law to sustain his view, but Turner and Donahy have the proper view. Frightful waste is practiced in the issuance of public documents and any attempt, or means to end it is to be approved.

What, the light dawning there? "Uncle Henry" Crows, who in his life of more than seventy years, has spent more than fifty in Wall street and thrown more spams about the tariff than all the other bulls put together, tells us: "With the growth of population the United States are rapidly passing from the agricultural to the manufacturing nation. We urgently desire foreign markets, and if we desire to sell to others, we must be prepared to buy from them in exchange, for the simple reason, that in the mass, the foreign trade is nothing more than barter, even though in detail the operations may be highly complex and delicate." That is the whole law and gospel of world commerce. It would ultimately run any nation to pay cash for its importation and export nothing abroad.

Edward Smawley, a farmer living somewhere out in Washington, is headed this way. Less than two years ago, he bought three Berkshire hogs for $90. This fall he exhibited their litters at a fair and swept away nearly all the premiums, and besides sold 15 pigs for $35 each. He is going to expend the whole proceeds, $325, in a trip over the country. It pays to buy and raise the best.

Does Mayor-elect Kaps consider "Young Doc" Sellards a dead one, when it is his purpose to make him cemetery superintendent if nobody else will have the job?

Always a fly in the ointment, the steel mills are troubled, because they may not be able to keep their headlong operations through inability to get big enough supplies of iron billets.

Now an another conundrum: What or who "busted" Mayor-elect Kaps' first sale?

WHAT IT MEANS TO TRAINMEN

Some people may be under the impression that the main object of railroad men in trying to keep their trains free from train riders, is solely with the commercial side in view. Far from it. The railroad men know of the danger that comes to inexperienced men and boys in hopping on and off trains. They know that sooner or later will come death or disfigurement. And it is not a cheerful thought, by any means, to a trainman to have a man or a boy killed or maimed on his train. It means a jarring of the nerves, a shock that often unfit them for work. The feeling of railroad men is expressed in a letter which one of them sent to The Times approving the attitude we had taken upon train riding. "If we can save one boy's leg or life we think we shall be well repaid for our trouble," he said.

There is the situation and parents should exert themselves to co-operate with railroad officials in preventing train riding by boys. And while you are at it, don't forget a word of caution to the grown-ups.

SEEKING GREEN FIELDS

According to Chief of Police O'Brien, of Chicago, the war in Europe is causing a horde of cheek raisers, forgers, thieves, burglars, and crooks and confidence men of all sorts to turn their faces and their activities towards the United States. Hundreds of them have already arrived and their numbers are being increased with the arrival of every ship. Landing in New York, as soon as they make a stake they scatter to the other big cities, the majority of them finding Chicago and the cities of the middle west their best and greenest fields.

There are two reasons for the migrating of these specially undesirable gentry, the pickings over the seas are not good these days and the impendency of compulsory war service warns them it is time to make themselves scarce.

There is no telling when the jig is up. Some of the names on the Kaps slate, set for hanging out Thursday, are not written thereon now, and there may yet be others on and off.

Is Kaps imitating our good young Governor in holding up those appraisals that his organ so blithely announced he was going to give out last Thursday.

Congress will convene Monday and there may be something of a struggle between the pork barrel and preparedness.

Villa seems to be like the Irishman's den, when Carranza puts his finger on him he isn't there.

When one picks up a daily paper these days, there comes to his mind the question: Well, what other big accident has happened? All nature seems turned topsy turvey with war and catastrophe.

In Chicago they are calling for more big men in the legislature. Well and good, but the big man wants less of the legislature.

Brisk business at the postoffice indicates a good many people are heeding the advice to b and mail early.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.
O-O-MEINTYRE.

New York, Dec. 4.—European whippersnappers, crooks and sirens from all over the world are giving the White Way new mystery and more pep. The town is full of whiskers, priceless pearls and beautiful Russian countesses and every hotel is mined with foreign secret service, Spanish dancers, French sirens and continental confidence men. War has driven them out of Europe.

With Vienna, London, Paris, Rome, Petrograd, Constantinople and Monte Carlo closed to merry-makers, New York has become the capital of the world. It will be a great year for shop-keepers. Mon Dieu, Ach Gotts, Carumbas and By Joves sprinkle the landscapes. Fifth avenue hostesses find themselves with enough titled guests to go 'round.

Every lobby in the city, every restaurant has the ingredients of an Oppenheim Monte Carlo diplomatic service plot. The whole world is drifting through New York restaurants every evening. Waiters are snarling to heart failure. A Russian tip is more than the average Broadway rounder spends for his entire meal. Broadway belches with thin strings of imitation pearls and home-made make up are no match for those near countesses from Russia with sabres, ropes of jewels and the like.

With due respect to the great medical minds, Eddie Wallace Dunn is of the opinion that no child is born so defective that it cannot become a ticket chopper or an efficiency engineer.

The Hyphen Question may never be settled by song writers but the force of the lyric writers' arguments, set to rattling music, is likely to convince many thousands of people that Uncle Sam has some rights.

When "I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Soldier" was written it seemed likely to become the proper sentiment and then some statesmen banged their forefingers upon the whole "peace" business and the poor song writer who wrote it was abused by press and public.

Now the song is all the rage is "Don't Bite The Hand That's Feeding You". The chorus warns:

"If you don't like your Uncle Sammy,
Then go back to your home o'er the sea,
To the land where you came,
Whatever be its name
But don't be ungrateful to me."

"Just bought this dress suit for twelve dollars," proudly boasted an actor who frequents Times Square to a fellow-student as he throw aside his top coat to display the grandeur of the black garb to its fullest.

"Huh," snuffed the other disparagingly. "Where's the white apron that goes with it?"

It is rather startling to learn that there are in this country 500,000 persons who are habitual users of drugs but it is quite reliably reported that in New York the use is constantly on the increase, since the recent laws to suppress the habit forcing drugs were made.

Broadway has numerous places where cocaine may be procured—"snow parlors" they are called. Several so-called Bohemian cafes are reported to be headquarters for the drug users and dispensers. It is hard to walk several blocks on Broadway without seeing some pasty white cocaine fiend twitching and shuffling along in the manner that easily stamps him. It is no rare occurrence to see men and women openly jib the point of the "hypo" into their arms in the cheaper cafes.

Early morning in the Tenderloin finds scores of furtive men and women darting from side streets in search of drug vendors. The men are lean as lathes and always wear their collars turned up and their caps drawn down.

Wants Son's Clothes

The police are in receipt of a letter from Mrs. E.E. Buelheit, of Elmore, S. C., asking them to recover some clothes belonging to her son, Willie. She writes that a Robinson avenue woman is in possession of the young man's clothes and refuses to give them up, although he no longer owes her any board.

No Strangers

There ought to be no strangers in this little vale of tears; I haven't seen a stranger's face for years and years and years. I see, of course, some people that I never saw before, But they're just like the others that I've known in days of yore. They've felt and known the self-same things the rest have known and felt, They'll freeze up for unfriendly folks, for kindly ones they'll melt. They've each one had a sorrow that they thought they couldn't bear, But bore it, just as people do with sorrows everywhere.

There ought to be no strangers, in this so-called world of woe, I see new people that I love, just everywhere I go.

And every one has felt some joy that I had felt some time. And each has had his little dream of higher slopes to climb; And each has known the sweets of home at some time or another; And nearly every man you meet will rave about his mother. They thrill at things that thrill me, too, these friends I never met— There ought to be no strangers in this misnamed world of fret!

PRESIDENT'S WEDDING DEC. 18

ONLY THE IMMEDIATE RELATIVES OF THE BRIDE AND GROOM TO ATTEND CUPID'S WHITE HOUSE TRIUMPH

Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.—President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt will be married on Saturday, December 18, at Mrs. Galt's home here, according to formal announcement made today at the White House.

It was also announced that the only guests will be Mrs. Galt's mother, her brothers and sisters, the president's brother and sister, his daughters and the members of his immediate household. No invitations will be issued.

No announcement was made regarding plans for a honeymoon, but it was expected that the president and his bride will leave Washington soon after the ceremony for somewhere in the south.

New Industrial Center Planned

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 4.—General Manager J. B. Garden, of the Wheeling Electric Company, yesterday confirmed the report that the American Gas and Electric Company will build a $2,500,000 power plant near Wellsburg, W. Va.

Many industries will be located near the plant, it was stated.

TAX UNMARRIED TO PAY FOR WAR

Berlin, Dec. 4.—The city of Osehalz in Saxony is the first German municipality to impose an extra tax upon the unmarried. Two or three other German towns have a tax on bachelors, but the new Osehalz law applies alike to male and female. Only Catholic priests are exempt. Other unmarried persons above 21 must pay above their regular municipal tax: On incomes from 1,800 to 2,400 marks yearly, five per cent; 2,400 to 4,000 marks, ten per cent; 4,000 to 6,300 marks, fifteen per cent; 6,300 to 10,000 marks, twenty per cent and above 10,000 marks, twenty-five per cent.

WAR GOOD THING FOR TURKISH WOMEN

Berlin, Dec. 4.—Turkey's participation in the war is bringing a greater degree of freedom to the Turkish women. The Turkish ministry of posts, telegraphs and telephones announces that women are to be employed in the money-order departments of the post offices. They must be not less than seventeen years old and unmarried. The pay is about $10 monthly.

London Is Facing Labor Shortage

London, Dec. 4.—Owing to active there was a general improvement, especially in the shortage of men in the labor market has become more acute in supplying the requirements and has greatly increased demands of the forces.

War bonuses and increases in the demand for women and young men as substitutes. Practically wages taking effect in October, many are capable of working, says affecting 150,000 working people. The Board of Trade Labor Gazette, amounted to about $115,000 a week. There is a general scarcity of colored men. There is a general scarcity of colored men. There is a general scarcity of colored men.

Compared with October 1914, reported in the glass, chemical, building and metal trades, and with regard to women, the demand for textile workers is still unsatisfied.

SENTENCED TO THE PEN

New York, Dec. 4.—Dr. Karl Buentz, George Kotter and Adolph Hachmeister of the Hamburg-American Line, recently convicted of conspiracy to defraud the United States government, were sentenced today to serve one and a half years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

Joseph Poppinghaus was sentenced to one year. The Hamburg-American Line was fined one dollar. All the defendants were admitted to bail pending the suing out of a writ of error in their behalf.

ENGINEER'S BRAIN FOILS GANG OF TRAIN LOOTERS; ROBBERS ARE PURSUED

Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 4.—Two posses today are pursuing the bandits who last night attempted to hold up a southbound passenger train on the Iron Mountain railroad near Malvern, Arkansas.

The holdup was foiled through the coolness of Theodore P. Howard, the engineer, and so quickly were officers and citizens on the trail of the would-be robbers that a battle was fought with them less than three hours later. Sheriff J. Stanley, of Malvern, was wounded in the foot. Two men climbed on the "Blind baggage" into the engine cab and had ordered Engineer Howard to stop the train, when he saw a camp fire. The engineer took his time bringing the train to a halt and the robbers were carried a mile beyond the place where their confederates were supposed to be waiting. Seeing that they were outwitted, the men leaped from the train and escaped.

COLLEGE MEN IN TRENCHES

London, Dec. 4.—Over 11,000 Cambridge men who are fighting with the colors, according to the university's latest war list, and of these men 614 have been killed, 900 wounded and 123 missing or prisoners of war. Three have won the Victoria Cross and others have received medals for distinguished conduct. Trinity heads the colleges with 2,500 soldiers and Pembroke follows with 1,052.

Physical Formation of Mexico

Mexico possesses a curious physical formation. Rising rapidly by a succession of terraces from the low, sandy coasts on the east and west, it culminates in a central plateau running in a northwesterly and southeasterly direction and having an elevation varying from 4,000 to 8,000 feet above the sea. High above this plateau tower the snow capped crests of several volcanoes, most of which are extinct. Ten of them are over 12,000 feet in height, and three look down upon fertile valleys from altitudes of 17,782, 17,356 and 16,690 feet. ADVANCE IN PAPER

New York, Dec. 4.—Paper jobbers here received word from leading paper manufacturers today that the price of colored papers had been advanced from half a cent to four cents a pound, according to the grade. The greatest advance is in coarse grades. Writing papers, envelopes, oiled paper used on printing presses, sandpaper and drawing papers share in the rise. White paper also is affected by the advance, it is announced.

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 4.—The name of President Woodrow Wilson as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination is on file here today with the secretary of state, ready to be placed on the Nebraska primary ballot in 1916. The petition which was filed yesterday was signed by 10 cal Democrats, among them P. L. Hall, Democratic National Committeeman from Nebraska. Charles Brynn, mayor of Lincoln, and brother of W. J. Bryan, former secretary of state, refused to sign the Wilson petition. He said if the petitioner would wait until he communicated with Mr. Wilson, he might sign.

IMMEDIATE RECALL OF TWO GERMAN ATTACHES EXPECTED

Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.—The American government today looked to Germany for the immediate recall of Captains Karl Doyed and Franz Von Papen, respectively, naval and military attaches of the German embassy here, in accordance with Secretary Lansing's request.

Alleged improper activities on the part of the German officers in connection with naval and military matters are given as the reason for Secretary Lansing's action. Request for immediate withdrawal was made through Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, who was informed that the officers had rendered themselves persona non grata to the United States.

The case against Doyed and Von Papen, although not susceptible of legal proof, consisted of complaints, since the beginning of the European war, which connected them with attempts to violate American neutrality. The state department regarded the complaints, as fully justifying the request for withdrawal of the attaches from the diplomatic service of Germany in the United States.

The action of Secretary Lansing had the full approval of President Wilson and his cabinet. The president is said to have decided to get rid of all foreign officials whose activities are considered harmful to the best interests of this country.

This government, it was said today, probably would ask the entente allies for safe conduct for the offending attaches. They are expected to leave at once.

State department officials were considering today what action should be taken in the case of Alexander Von Nuber, Austro-Hungarian consul general at New York, whose name had been linked with those of Captain Doyed and Von Papen in connection with activities regarded as objectionable by the United States. The department, it was also said today, is considering whether any action should be taken regarding other higher officials of foreign embassies here.

NOT FIGHTING FORCE BUT GROUPS OF GHOSTS WHICH ARRIVED TO RELIEVE MONASTIR

Milan, Dec. 4.—(Via London) A correspondent of the Corriere Della Sera who departed from Monastir on the last train which went to that city telegraphs that 4,000 Serbian troops, sent to assist Col. Sometimes they went forty-eight hours without food.

It was not a fighting force, but groups of ghosts, which entered Monastir. The correspondent says, "although the men were fit

Germany Enjoying Big Crop Of Fruit

The livest telephone wires in Portsmouth are those leading to the TIMES WANT AD department.

Berlin, Dec. 4.—The unusually large crop of fruit throughout Germany this fall has made unnecessary the existence of a conservation organization known as the "War Committee of the Fruit Manufacturing Industry." This, composed of manufacturers of preserves and marmalades, was formed when it was feared that large quantities of fruit would go to waste unless some step was taken to make it into substitutes for butter and fat.

Individual manufacturers all over Germany have taken the initiative themselves, however, and report that because of the good season they have produced twice, and in some cases three times as much marmalade as usual. Virtually all the rest of the crop not so used has been eaten as fresh fruit. No less than 200 German cities have imported carloads of apples, pears, and the like for their populations. Germany not only has eaten an unprecedented amount of fruit this season, but has also a record amount of preserved fruit on hand for future needs.

Nearly All The Coaches Of Leading
Teams In Harness For 20 Years

By FIELDING H. YOST

(Coach Yost has had charge of college football teams for a long time, and it was suggested to him that he could tell some interesting things of coaches and coaching. The following article is the result of the suggestion.—Editor.)

Copyright 1916 by the Central Press Association.

It never occurred to me how long I had been coaching football teams until someone asked me about a week or two ago. When I counted up the time, I found that nineteen years have passed since I started.

It may seem that I am getting to be something of a veteran, but as a matter of fact, many of the leading college coaches were in the harness when I started, and had been for some time.

Since Dr. Williams, Warner and others who are still handling big university teams, were on the job ahead of me. Even the so-called younger coaches have been at work for ten or twelve years.

Back in 1897 I began coaching at Ohio Wesleyan. I wanted to see the country and become familiar with the game as played in all sections, so I worked west. In 1899 I went to Nebraska, and to Kansas in 1900, going on to Stanford in 1902. In 1904 I moved to Michigan, and have been there ever since.

I remember "Pop" Warner, an old Cornell man, was in harness when I started. He was with North Carolina then, and went later to Cornell and Calisle. Now he is at the University of Pittsburgh.

Then there is Dr. Williams, who has been at Minnesota for sixteen years, and who has developed many strong teams. He was coaching Penn State high school at Philadelphia when I started.

You might call Stagg of Chicago the dean of the coaches. He has been holding his present job for twenty-five years, and looks good for another twenty-five.

Percy Haughton, who made such a big success of this year's Harvard team, was coaching Penn State high school at Philadelphia when I started.

As I remember, he was coaching Cornell then.

Brooks, "By" Blakson, and Wharton, old Penn men, also have been in the game about twenty years. They have all worked on the Pennsy team this year.

F. H. Yost.

Sharpe, Cornell coach, and McGugin at Vanderbilt have been going about 12 years. "Speedy" Rush, now at Princeton, has been in the game about that long.

Benny Owens, who has made a winner of Oklahoma, is my oldest pupil now in the coaching business. He was quarterback at Kansas. He has been coaching for sixteen years, fourteen of them at Oklahoma.

Two other coaches who are getting to be veterans are Donahue of Auburn and Heisman of Georgia Tech. They have had a lot of victories to their credit.

The game is much more interesting now, from a spectator's standpoint, than it was when I began. That is an account of the open game, and the doing away with mass plays. While there is plenty of line plunging today, it is in the nature of driving or deception in attack, rather than mass play. The players know more of the science of the game now. There is more skill and handwork than in the old days.

Football Work Is Completed;
Mr. Marting Back At Studies

Now that Yale has reflected soberly over its most disastrous football season and has put away its football regalia rather tearfully, H. A. Marting, a Portsmouth boy, who had charge of this year's Yale freshman material has returned to his law studies at the Columbia University in New York.

Mr. Marting, who was one of the most versatile leaders Old Eli has ever turned out did all he could to turn out a winner at Yale this year. He had charge of the players who will be heard from next year and according to Mr. Marting the freshmen material this year was strictly A. No. 1. His team of freshmen frequently ran rough shod over the varsity eleven and this, of course, greatly pleased Mr. Marting, whose work of handling the first year students was praised by Yale students and Old Eli's faculty.

Acquainted with every angle of the game Mr. Marting no doubt instilled the rudiments of the game into a gang of willing workers, whose work next year may result in their college reasoning ground it has lost in a football way the past two seasons.

Just before the Yale-Harvard game Ralph Marting received a letter from H. A. Marting in which he said: "Harvard may beat us, but there will be no score of 20 to 0."

All of which recalls to mind that the Yale-Harvard score was 41 to 0. But then it must be admitted that Mr. Marting showed the true Yale spirit. He hardly looked for victory, but expected to get his glory out of a small score.

Friday, Ivory Knobs vs. Spiders, alleys 4 and 5.

With shouts and hurrahs, a small sample of which you will generally hear at a football game, four teams of the Masonic Bowling League rolled with much merriment and a small amount of sadness at the Play House alleys Friday night and when the fog had lifted it was seen that the Giant Killers had taken three from Floyd Fuller's Submarines, while the Wurster Rexalls had hammered the Nodder Spiders two out of three. All in all it was one large evening, there being plenty of spectators on the side lines to lend aid and encouragement to the pin shooters.

Many of whom were off their feet and many of whom rolled surprisingly good games.

The Giants had little if any difficulty with their opponents, in the Submarines, right and properly named, because they are still down. Captain Fuller and his band of marksmen tried valiantly but the Giants kept out of their range and when the time came sent several broad sides that at least disarranged the wireless system, although they did not phase the talking precocities of Captain Fuller, who went down with his face toward the enemy, grinning fire vengeance, which means there'll come a time.

Out on alleys 4 and 5 Captain Wurster spread the necessary rosin and his team held their feet until they captured two games. The Spiders, their worthy opponents, rolled a surprisingly large total in the seventh game, Chaplain Nodder gathering 303 for his effort, giving him the high score for this season. That 303 was the only thing that the Spider captain took home with him, for he had counted on taking at three. However a little sugar in the shape of his big game made the medicine administered by Dr. Wurster taste like fudge, sprinkled with grated coconut—ever taste it?

Taking everything into consideration the boys had one large evening and expect to come back next week for more of the same stuff. The performance of two of the Giants is well worthy of comment. Reference is made to Sir Edward Campbell and Frank Johnson Baker, the Sleepless Shoeman. These two worthies were right there at the start and finish. Campbell shot carefully and at most times quite accurately. Baker did likewise and gloriouly of holding up his end and shouldering part of the load. It looks as though the Giants would be fully as strong as last year when they rumped home with the flag. The scores:

Flashes From Sport Wire

Billy Harl wants to become an umpire in the National League. There must be some truth in the report that J. Evers is going to the Reds.

Pitts has challenged Cornell but then it only costs the price of a telegram for Pitt to challenge Cornell. Besides Pitt has won too many football games for Cornell to pay any attention to the barbarous things.

Gilmore says the New York Federals will be the equals of Giants and Yankees. But that's nothing to write pieces in the paper about!

The reason Harvard gridgers weren't numbered was to keep opponents from distinguishing the crimson players. But Yale didn't have much trouble identifying Mahan.

P. S.—Not that they got very close to him!

Yale has elected a football captain, but that seems a poor way to reward Black for his good work.

Fred Hunter May

According to information given out in Wheeling Fred Hunter is likely to be named as the new manager of the Wheeling Stogies.

The Wheeling club is without a pilot, and no better selection, we believe, could be made than Hunter. The latter was with El. Worth last season and had a great year in the field and at the bat. Hunter is spending the off season in Columbus, where he is interested in a pool room.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The Carlisle team will not be a contender in future intercollegiate football games as a result of a decision by Secretary Lane after a conference with Commissioner Sells of the Indian service and Superintendent Lipps of the Carlisle Indian school.

Secretary Lane added that in the future football must be subordinated to the educational features of the school.

Basket Ball Schedule Has Been Adopted By Boy Scouts

The Boy Scout Basketball League for 1916-17 will open on Monday following Christmas, Dec. 27. The league will get a big start with the following games will be played at this time, which will constitute the opening games: East End vs. Eagles; West End vs. Tigers. We give below the schedule in full:

Dec. 27—East End vs. Eagles; Tigers vs. West End.
Jan. 4—East End vs. Tigers; West End vs. Eagles.
Jan. 11—East End vs. West End; Tigers vs. Eagles.
Jan. 18—East End vs. Eagles; West End vs. Tigers.
Jan. 25—East End vs. Tigers; West End vs. Eagles.
Feb. 1—East End vs. Eagles; West End vs. Tigers.
Feb. 8—Anniversary games, East End vs. Tigers; West End vs. Eagles.
Feb. 15—East End vs. West End; Tigers vs. Eagles.
Feb. 22—East End vs. Eagles; West End vs. Tigers.
Feb. 29—East End vs. Tigers; West End vs. Eagles.
March 6—East End vs. West End; Tigers vs. Eagles.

The league will last eleven weeks and many good games are looked for as the league is much faster this season than it was last, and the teams are more evenly matched, which has been proved by the pre-season games.

Herzog Outplayed
Brilliant Bancroft

Bancroft, the wonderful young shortstop of the Philadelphia Nationals, was heralded throughout the land as the marvel of National league ballplayers. Yet comparison with the work of Herzog—who happened to play shortstop in exactly the same position—has made the young quiver. Last night, second-hand goods beside the manager of the Cincinnati Reds. Look at the official returns and see:

Players G. PO. A. E. RBI.
Herzog 133 227 122 64 35
Bancroft 133 227 122 64 35

The figures show that Herzog didn't get his higher average by striking out batters, the fact is, he has been actually won after more errors than Bancroft, and so, there is no doubt that did not turn out as many out of the bench as he would have liked, and in short, that his work was superior to that of the younger player in every possible manner.

Attorney J. F. Johnley and Samuel A. Williams are being tipped today for the appointment as clerk of the service department, and it is said that one of the two will land the appointment, which pays $50 a month.

WATCH THE TIMES

During the present week, The Times has been giving its readers a foretaste of the kind of a newspaper they are going to get from now on. We have been giving a good paper, but we are going to give a still better one, if possible to do so. Some of our new equipment is here and is being placed in operation, giving us additional facilities for handling the news and advertising on time. More will be added next week.

To our advertisers we can say that we are now prepared to handle their advertising quickly in any size type from Six Point to 36 Point. On complicated ads, better service is insured by bringing in the copy the day before the ad is to run in the paper. At all times, it is our effort to please, and we want to know it, if any one is dissatisfied.

We are completing arrangements for the further improvement of our Saturday issue, which is already considerable of a feature paper. We expect to have it a top notch in every respect, full of interesting reading matter for over Sunday. It will be a hummer, interesting to the whole family from the grown-ups to the children.

We appreciate the loyalty of our readers. Occasionally some have stopped the paper for a brief time, in the past years, relying on alluring promises that never were fulfilled and they have invariably come back to their first love. They have found that The Times has been delivering the goods day in, day out and has played square. We hope to continue to enjoy the confidence of our readers and we certainly are going to do all in our power to give them the best possible value for their money.

A TWO-FOLD MISSION

In a striking advertisement of the Commercial Building and Loan Company, which appeared in The Times of Saturday and preceded its annual report, the statement was made that while the primary purpose of such an association as it was to aid people to secure their own homes, it had another aim of equal importance and that was to encourage the habit of saving.

We have pondered some over that statement, endeavoring to reach a conclusion as to whether or not the two propositions are really of equal importance, but have not been able to strongly form it. The only thing we were able to clearly fix in our own mind is that no two aims could be more worthy of undertaking and deserving of the best and most intelligent effort to promote them. Home, home ownership, is the surest foundation of society and the most impregnable bulwark of the nation. But, after all, is not saving the broader virtue, does it not include more people within its possible scope? Not to every one is home a need, or even a desirable thing to have in one's ownership, but saving, and thrift, is a quality that all can exercise to benefit. Thrift not only benefits him who practices it, no harm can be done by it to another.

These are, however, but speculations and each may argue for either home or thrift, according to his turn and his personal satisfaction. They lead up, nevertheless to a dominant thought and that is Portsmouth is particularly fortunate in her building associations. They have gone further than being merely safe and successful as monetary matters go; they have been actively, aggressively effective in leading to both home building and the practice of thrift. Yet, it is to be assumed that as many are yet uninformed and unmindful as to their benefits and helpfulness, it is because they take as a rallying the common saying, every little bit added to what you've got makes a little bit more, not regarding that it is a bit of keen philosophy. They do not give sufficient study to that philosophy to get a conviction of the mighty power of addition and interest. On the other hand it is because building associations thoroughly comprehend this power and put it in operation that they become so useful and so potent in the up-building of peoples and communities. They know that if the person, who is twenty today, begins depositing with them only a dollar a week, and keeps on until age incapacitates him from labor, he will have amply sufficient to maintain him in comfort. Should he not live for such a length he will die in the satisfaction that he has made some provision, at least, for those dependent upon him. It is the progressive spirit of the building associations that has made Portsmouth rather exceptional for the number of her home-owners and savers and their good work is bound to go on to still wider effect.

Ah, ha, its coming down to brass tacks, just as we said it would. Republican congressmen and senators, who proclaimed so early how they would stand behind Wilson are now saying supporting preparedness doesn't mean voting for what the president may propose.

The fact that the C. O. P. organs tell us Democratic free trade is going to wreck the country may be interesting to them, the fact that the country is enjoying marvelous prosperity is important to all of us.

Now it is claimed the sly Teutons are inspiring all this peace talk, the why and the wherefore of which will appear later.

THE NEW PEACE DOVE

LET THEM STAND PAT

A majority of the state printing commission, composed of Attorney General Turner, Secretary of State Hildebrand, and Auditor Donahey, has taken a right stand, and let us hope an unyielding one, against profligate expenditure of the state's fund in printing public documents and official reports. Turner and Donahey have refused to permit the printing of 29,000 railroad maps that the legislators voted themselves, and they also laid over a permit to print the roster of Ohio's militia officers and ordered the publication of its monthly bulletin of 120 and 160 pages to not more than 50 pages, else there will be nothing doing in the printing line.

Secretary of State Hildebrand did not join with the majority in knocking out the considerable hunk of graft. The legislators were handing themselves in the shape of a proportionate share in the railroad maps, contending, it is to be supposed that since the legislature had ordered them to be printed there was nothing else to do. Possibly, he may have the law to sustain his view, but Turner and Donahey have the proper view. Frightful waste is practiced in the issuance of public documents and any attempt, or means to end it is to be approved.

What, the light dawning there! "Uncle Henry" Clews, who in his life of more than seventy years, has spent more than fifty in Wall street and thrown more spasms about the tariff than all the other bulls put together, tells us: "With the growth of population the United States are rapidly passing from the agricultural to the manufacturing nation. We urgently desire foreign markets, and if we desire to sell to others, we must be prepared to buy from them in exchange, for the simple reason, that in the mass, the foreign trade is nothing more than barter, even though in detail the operations may be highly complex and delicate." That is the whole law and gospel of world commerce. It would ultimately ruin any nation to pay cash for its importation and export nothing abroad.

Edward Smawley, a farmer living somewhere out in Washington, is headed this way. Less than two years ago he bought three Berkshire hogs for $90. This fall he exhibited their litters at a fair and swept away nearly all the premiums, and besides sold 15 pigs for $35 each. He is going to expend the whole proceeds, $525, in a trip over the country. It pays to buy and raise the best.

Does Mayor-elect Kaps consider "Young Doc" Sellards a dead one, when it is his purpose to make him cemetery superintendent if nobody else will have the job?

Always a fly in the ointment; the steel mills are troubled because they may not be able to keep their headlong operations through inability to get big enough supplies of iron billets.

Now an another conundrum: What or who "husted" Mayor-elect Kaps' first slate?

WHAT IT MEANS TO TRAINMEN

Some people may be under the impression that the main object of railroad men in trying to keep their trains free from train riders, is solely with the commercial side in view. Far from it. The railroad men know of the danger that comes to inexperienced men and boys in hopping on and off trains. They know that sooner or later will come death or disfigurement. And it is not a cheerful thought, by any means, to a trainman to have a man or a boy killed or maimed on his train. It means a jarring of the nerves, a shock that often unfits them for work. The feeling of railroad men is expressed in a letter which one of them sent to The Times approving the attitude we had taken upon train riding. "If we can save one boy's leg or life we think we shall be well repaid for our trouble," he said.

There is the situation and parents should exert themselves to co-operate with railroad officials in preventing train riding by boys. And while you are at it, don't forget a word of caution to the grown-ups.

SEEKING GREEN FIELDS

According to Chief of Police O'Brien, of Chicago, the war in Europe is causing a horde of check raisers, forgers, thieves, burglars, and crooks and confidence men of all sorts to turn their faces and their activities towards the United States. Hundreds of them have already arrived and their numbers are being increased with the arrival of every ship. Landing in New York, as soon as they make a stake they scatter to the other big cities, the majority of them finding Chicago and the cities of the middle west their best and greenest fields.

There are two reasons for the migrating of these specially undesirable gentry, the pickings over the seas are not good these days and the impendency of compulsory war service warns them it is time to make themselves scarce.

There is no telling when the jig is up. Some of the names on the Kaps slate, set for hanging out Thursday, are not written thereon now, and there may yet be others on and off.

Is Kaps imitating our good young Governor in holding up those appoints that his organ so blithely announced he was going to give out last Thursday.

Congress will convene Monday and there may be something of a struggle between the pork barrel and preparedness.

Villa seems to be like the Irishman's flea, when Carranza puts his finger on him he isn't there.

When one picks up a daily paper these days, there comes to his mind the question: Well, what other big accident has happened? All nature seems turned topsy turvy with war and catastrophe.

In Chicago they are calling for more big men in the legislature. Well and good, but the big men want less of the legislature.

Brisk business at the postoffice indicates a good many people are heeding the advice to b and mail early.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY

O-O-MEINTYRE.

New York, Dec. 4.—European whippersnappers, crooks and sirens from all over the world are giving the White Way new mystery and more pep. The town is full of some rights.

When "I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Soldier" was written it seemed likely to become the proper sentiment and then some statesmen barged their forensic fists upon the whole "peace" business and the poor song writer who wrote it was abused by press and public.

Now the song is all the rage is "Don't Bite The Hand That's Feeding You". The chorus warns: "If you don't like your Uncle Sammy, Then go back to your home o'er the sea. To the land where you came, Whatever be its name. But don't be ungrateful to me."

"Just bought this dress suit for twelve dollars" proudly boasted an actor who frequents Times Square to a fellow-standee as he threw aside his top coat to display the grandeur of the black garb to its fullest.

"Huh!" sniffed the other disparagingly. "Where's the white apron that goes with it?"

It is rather startling to learn that there are in this country 500,000 persons who are habitual users of drugs but it is quite reliably reported that in New York the use is constantly on the increase, since the recent laws to suppress the habit forming drugs were made.

Broadway has numerous places where cocaine may be procured—snow parlors—they are called. Several so-called Bohemian cafes are reported to be headquarters for the drug users and dispensers. It is hard to walk several blocks on Broadway without seeing some pasty white cocaine fiend twitching and shuffling along in the manner that easily stamps him. It is no rare occurrence to see men and women openly jab the point of the "hypo" into their arms in the cheaper cafes.

Early morning in the Tenderloin finds scores of furtive men and women darting from side streets in search of drug vendors. The men are lean as lathes and always wear their collars turned up and their caps drawn down.

the force of the lyric writers' arguments, set to rattling music, is likely to convince many thousands of people that Uncle Sam has some rights.

No Strangers

There ought to be no strangers in this little vale of tears; I haven't seen a stranger's face for years and years and years.

I see, of course, some people that I never saw before, But they're just like the others that I've known in days of yore.

They've felt and known the self-same things the rest have known and felt.

They'll freeze up for unfriendly folks, for kindly ones they'll melt.

They've each one had a sorrow that they thought they couldn't bear.

But bore it, just as people do with sorrows everywhere.

There ought to be no strangers, in this so-called world of woe, I see new people that I love, just everywhere I go.

And every one has felt some joy that I had felt some time; And each has had his little dream of higher slopes to climb;

And each has known the sweets of home at some time or another;

And nearly every man you meet will rave about his mother. They thrill at things that thrill me, too, these friends I never met—

There ought to be no strangers in this misnamed world of fret!

DANCE HALLS TO BE REGULATED SAYS MAYOR

Order Goes Out As Result Of Cutting Affray On Thursday

As a sequel to Thursday night's she felt frightened. She de-cutting affray at the Distel hall on upper Gallia street Mayor Adam Erick has directed Police Chief B. E. Allen to order the dance hall at the time the cutting occurred. She said she had been there before the cutting and that Holbrook, from whom she has been separated, called her to one side and after they had taken seats together began complaining he had been hearing tales about her. She said she soon after left the hall.

The hall will not be permitted to be used for dances until arrangements are made by the proprietors to maintain better order or until they may submit for approval a proper person to act in the capacity of special officer.

Capt. Grant Cooper, who refused to permit further dancing and ordered the hall cleared immediately after the cutting took place, will also be directed to make a close personal inspection of all such places and order closed any that may not be up to reasonable social standards. The officials take the stand that it is in such places that persons having grudges and grievances give vent to their feelings and precipitate arguments in the desire to seek revenge.

Holbrook continues doing nicely since his removal to Hempstead hospital, but will be bedfast for several more days.

Holbrook's young wife, whom police vainly sought after the cutting all day Friday was a caller at police headquarters Friday night. She was accompanied by a sister. She admitted having eluded the officers Thursday night. She said she had retired for the night when the officers came. She lived in the basement of the building and hearing the officers above inquiring for her she bolted from the place, attired though she was in her night clothes, going to the home of a relative nearby simply because

SALARIED CHOIR, AND OTHER MATTERS ARE DISCUSSED

A Columbus paper has the following extracts and comments on a sermon delivered by Rev. E. A. Powell, of All Saints church, at the Columbus Church of the Good Shepherd, where Rev. Mr. Powell has been preaching the past week:

"The greatest credit of some people today seems to be to hate whisky and say 'To hell with the pope.'"

In my home town of Portsmouth, in many pulpits, the ministers forgot to preach the gospel, and for fourteen weeks preached nothing but hatred of whiskey. Well, they got rid of the whiskey, and then they put their hands behind their backs, sang 'Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow,' and let Portsmouth go to the devil.

"They forgot that those people who had been getting entertainment and pleasure out of the saloon might want something in its place. All Saints church was the only one that did anything for them. We built a parish house, Dr. Gladden made a dedicatory address, and we put in pool and billiard tables and bowling alleys and invited the young men and young women to come there to dance; then a lot of people thought we were going to hell, too, and if we were, 'To hell with that, too.'"

"The foregoing are extracts from a sermon preached by Rev. E. A. Powell, of Portsmouth, at the Church of the Good Shepherd last night on the topic, 'The Supreme Need.' This was his fourth sermon in connection with the nation-wide preaching mission being observed by Columbus Episcopal churches.

"It was like a confidential chat with church members about the evils that will creep into a church. The supreme need he held to be that of prayer, and he held up as models the prayer of the woman of Canaan, who asked, 'Lord, help me,' and the publican who asked, 'Lord, be merciful to me a sinner.'"

"Rev. Mr. Powell said that many church members sometimes took the holier-than-thou stand of the Pharisee, and criticized the preacher, the choir, the sexton, the janitor, the warden and fellow church members.

"The church sometimes fails to get into touch with community life, which results in selfishness.

"In this connection he made the reference above quoted.

"In defense of the voluntary choir he said:

"I would deliver me from the high-salaried quartet in a church, where the tenor smirks at the soprano and the soprano smirks at the tenor, and they sing some senseless thing that has no connection whatever with God or God's church or God's service."

Had Roasted It Would Take 14 Men To Overpower Him, But He Changed His Mind.

Modern Sampson Tamed

A young man giving the name of Kin Brown, was fined $10 and costs in the mayor's court Friday evening for disorderly conduct.

Brown, according to the evidence, while under the influence of liquor, went to the home of Mrs. Adams, of No. 2029 Fifth street, a few nights ago and kicked over a lamp and some vases. When threatened with arrest, he is said to have boasted that he was a regular Sampson and it would take 14 men to overpower him, but he changed his mind and came in very meekly. He has been keeping company with a Miss

Parker, who boarded at the Adams home. Brown made no denial of the statements against him.

Mrs. Adams also took the opportunity for complaining to the mayor that her thirteen-year-old daughter had become a regular attendant at the Pentecostal church.

Local Elks Will Honor The Memory Of Dead On Sunday; Public Is Invited To Services

It is fittingly appropriate that the first funeral exercises to be held by the Portsmouth Lodge of Elks in its new home in the Play House building will be the annual memorial service in memory of the departed brothers of the order on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock.

An impressive service has been arranged by the committee, the members of which made a special effort to offer an unusually appropriate speaking and musical program.

Close personal friends of the three members who departed this life during the past year will deliver eulogies on their lives and works, while the city's best musical talent will be heard in vocal and instrumental selections.

The ritualistic service will be in charge of Exalted Ruler Stanley McCall and the other officers of the lodge.

The committee in charge of the service is composed of John Jones, William S. Pixler and William Beach. The complete program is as follows:

March, "Aurora's Death".....Gregory Wilkins, Trio—Mrs. Albert L. Wilkins, Miss Alice Blake, Mrs. George A. Kah.

Opening Exercises—H. Stanley McCall, Exalted Ruler.

Quartette, "Lead Kindly Light"—J. Roche Jacobson—Mrs. Norma Hark Young, Mrs. Charles L. Storek, Fred Lorey and William H. Schwartz.

$5,000 DRUNK

Officers Burns and Osborn are priding themselves on having arrested a "$5,000 drunk" at the N. & W. depot Friday evening. The unfortunate registered as J. T. Bush and gave Sciotoville as his home. When searched at police headquarters he had $15.30 cash in his pockets and a found bank book showing he had $5,000 on deposit.

"MAYORALTY TIE" CONTEST ENDED

Dr. Jos. Gill is in receipt of a letter from his brother, J. Gill, Jr., of St. Bernard, O., telling of the big mayoralty contest there having just been settled. Henry Nailor was declared mayor in Judge Warner's court Thursday. At the November election the race for mayor resulted in a tie between Nailor and Michaels. It was decided to toss a coin and Nailor won. Michaels later went into court in hopes of winning the office.

Your Health

Edited by John E. Landis, M. D., Health Officer of Cincinnati

Department of The Times Conducted in Co-operation with Committee on Public Health Education, Ohio State Medical Association.

On January first, 1916, a very important State Board of Health regulation becomes effective in Ohio. It covers the sale of ice cream, sodas and soda fountain sundries.

This regulation presents another opportunity for the public to aid in the great work now being done in this country to prevent the spread of communicable diseases.

These regulations, wherever enforced, will eliminate one method of transmission that is responsible for a great deal of sickness and for numerous deaths.

The mouth-to-mouth transmissions of the cause of diphtheria, scarlet fever, tuberculosis, etc., can be accomplished as easily by the use of cups, spoons, etc., as it can in the act of kissing.

Ice cream and soda water dealers have an opportunity to secure a bit of advertising that will more than cover the cost of meeting the requirements.

Public patronage is as responsible to neatness, cleanliness and safety as "the needle to the pole", and right here is where the public should use its limitless power to make or break dealers handling ice cream and sodas.

If your dealer meets the requirements, pass the word along to your neighbors; if he does not, pass the word along just the same, for he has no more moral right to subject you to the dangerous communicable diseases than he has to serve you with a solution of some dangerous vegetable or metallic poison, when you order soda water or ice cream.

The United States Public Health Service recently carried out a series of tests in Detroit which showed that about one per cent of those examined were carrying diphtheria bacilli in their throats.

This will give the general public some idea of the danger confronting those using unsterilized eating or drinking utensils, whether they be in public places or in the home.

Following are the orders and regulations adopted by the State Board of Health:

"Rule 1. In order that the sale of ice cream, sodas and soda fountain sundries may be conducted under sanitary conditions the operators of ice cream parlors and soda fountains are hereby instructed that all such goods shall be dispensed only in sterile containers. To this end it is ordered that all soda fountains and ice-cream parlors, be provided with facilities for the sterilization of dippers, glasses, spoons, serving dishes and any other vessel or utensil coming in contact with ice cream, sodas or soda fountain sundries.

"Rule 2. Facilities for the sterilization of dippers, glasses, spoons, serving dishes or any other vessel or utensil coming in contact with ice cream, sodas or soda fountain sundries shall include:

(a) An adequate supply of hot and cold water of a quality suitable for drinking purposes.

(b) Suitable arrangements for supplying boiling water or live steam.

(c) An adequate supply of clean towels for drying glasses, dishes, etc.

(d) Suitable provision for taking care of sterile glasses, dishes, etc., so as to keep same clean until wanted for use.

"Rule 3. All dishes and utensils, after each individual service, shall be washed by (a) rinsing in cold water, (b) then thorough washing in hot water with soap or suitable cleansing powder, (c) then exposing to live steam or boiling water for a period of three to five minutes (d) then rinsing in clean cold water and draining or wiping with a clean towel.

In lieu of the above requirements or where it is found impossible or inexpedient to use live steam or boiling water, paper cups or paper tumblers with individual spoons will be allowed for individual use only.

"Rule 4. Refrigerators at soda fountains shall be kept clean by washing with hot water and soap or washing powder.

"Rule 5. Employees in ice cream parlors and at soda fountains shall be cleanly in apron and dress, free from infectious and contagious diseases and trained in the conduct of their work.

"Rule 6. The use of straws is forbidden except when such straws are protected from dust, dirt and handling by employees or others.

"Rule 7. As soon as empty, all ice cream containers, milk and cream cans shall be thoroughly rinsed with cold water and covered so that no foreign matter may enter said containers or cans. Check up on your soda fountain man. If he hasn't met these requirements by New Years, remember that he is not doing all in his power to protect your safety.

KNOWLEDGE.

Virtue is an angel, but she is a kind one and must ask of Knowledge to show her the pathway that leads to her goal. Mere knowledge, on the other hand, is ready to combat either in the ranks of sin or under the banners of righteousness, to navigate a corsair's vessel or a missionary ship. — Horace Mann.

America's First Lighthouse.

The first lighthouse built on this continent was at St. Augustine, Fla. Its chief use was as a lookout, whence the Spanish people of the town could see vessels approaching from Spain or get notice of the coming of foes in time to run away. The tower attracted the attention of Francis Drake as he was sailing along the coast with his fleet of high powered ships on his way home from pillaging the cities of the Spanish main, so he stopped long enough to loot the town and destroy what he could not take away.

Wm. Hyland Honored By The W. of W.

William Hyland, clerk at the Wolff Clothing Company, was named as the new head of River City Camp No. 29, Woodmen of the World, at the annual election Friday evening. C. C. Miltstead, who has served as clerk for years, refused to accept another year, and O. H. Lewis was named in his stead.

The full roster of the officials is: Past Comptroller, Commander, Roy McElhenny; councillor, commander, William Hyland; advisor, lieutenant, Harry Hyland; banker, W. H. Clark; clerk, O. H. Lewis; cashier, J. E. Williams; watchman, C. C. Miltstead; sentry, Henry Toller; manager, George Clifford.

Camp physicians, Dr. A. L. Test, Dr. O. D. Tatje, J. W. Fitch, O. D. Micklethwait and George W. Martin.

One candidate, Clyde Baskette, was initiated at last night's meeting, and five applications were received.

The twentieth anniversary of the founding of the order will be observed with appropriate ceremonies on the night of Friday, December 17th. Invitations have been extended to some of the high officials of the order to be present. The committee is composed of George W. Clifford, William Hyland, Roy McElhenny, Jacob Kah and C. C. Miltstead.

According to the Ironton Irononian, a committee from the Chamber of Commerce of Ironton was to have called on the Lawrence county commissioners today and urge the paving on the road between Ironton and Hanging Rock. This stretch of road, it is claimed, has been in bad shape all year and is badly in need of improvement.

The Movies

Columbia Today
Harold Lockwood and May Allison in "The House of Scandals"

For today Mamey Tynes announces Harold Lockwood and May Allison, two of the most popular of all motion picture stars, in "The House of Scandals," a four reel Mutual masterpiece.

This picture is easily one of the best of all of the Mutual masterpieces, chock full of intensely interesting situations, wonderful scenes, most unusual settings and perfect photography.

Charming dances under the personal direction of Miss Hawkesworth are a distinct feature, reproducing many of the classic Greek dances that have been the big sensation all the past season at New York, Newport and Palm Beach.

Don't forget Harold Lockwood and dainty May Allison in "The House of Scandals" at the Columbia today. No advance in admission—all seats 10 cents.
